NORMAN E. CLARK

Norman E. Clark, who has guided the affairs of the Greater New Castle Association as acting president since its temporary organization several months ago, last night was chosen as the first permanent president of the association's board of directors.

The newly elected board of directors of 12 prominent citizens formally organized at its first session in the new association office in The Castleton.

Directors also named A. L. Bantz, Jr., first vice president; W. Keith McAfee, second vice president; John J. Maher, treasurer, and Elmer D. O'Neill, secretary.

Call Advisory Council

President Clark announced this morning that the association's new advisory council of 36 citizens will gather in The Castleton Wednesday.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Today, April 6, is Army Day. This is significant in these days of world warlike preparations.

Quite a number of young folks and oldsters were gathered at the corner of Chestnut and Spruce Sts. Wednesday afternoon, watching a number of men working in conjunction with a cement mixer, laying the foundation for an addition to a building in that location. It was evidently something new to some of them, as there has not been much construction work in this neighborhood for some time.

Six large motor coaches, were seen yesterday, being driven out Croton avenue, all on their way to New York.

Referring to our statistics of last year, we find that exactly a year ago today, New Castle was experiencing a snow storm and was well covered with five or six inches of snow.

Due to the fact that court will be in session on Good Friday, which is tomorrow, the office of the courthouse will be open for business.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 5 p. m. Wednesday are as follows:

EUROPEAN DEVELOPMENTS

(International News Service)

Fresh fears of war gripped Europe today as the Easter week end approached. Latest developments:

LONDON—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain informed the House of Commons that Italian warships had arrived in Albanian waters and that the Tirana government had denied it would accept conditions incompatible with Albanian independence. The prime minister also announced Poland had pledged herself to reciprocate Britain's assurance of armed support.

ROME—Italy planned to establish an immediate protectorate over Albania, in fact but not in name.

BERLIN—German authorities indicated Rome-Berlin axis will answer British efforts to form "Stop Hitler" front by transforming the axis into an open Italo-German military alliance. German and Italian army chiefs conferred at Innsbruck.

ST. JEAN DE LUZ, Franco-Spanish Frontier—A full division of Italian Alpine (mountain) troops has arrived in Spain since termination of the civil war.

PARIS—French foreign office instructed its Burgos ambassador to demand clarification of reports of fresh Italian troop arrivals in Spain.

BELGRADE—Albanian "free corps" of 10,000 to 15,000 men may resist Italy "unofficially."

Strict 'Cash-And-Carry' Neutrality Law Proposed To Keep U. S. Out Of War

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Tall, white-haired Bernard M. Baruch, who headed this government's industries board during the World War, presented congress today a formula for American peace based on a strict cash-and-carry neutrality law and adequate national defense.

He appeared before the senate foreign relations committee considering pending neutrality proposals, and sharply took issue with all plans save cash-and-carry.

Says U. S. Can Stay Out

Baruch held out an optimistic hope for American avoidance of any European conflicts, provided his formula is adopted. Leaning his long lean body forward on the table in front of the committee, he said:

"I venture to believe that this country or this hemisphere can escape involvement in a European conflict and we can do this without burying our head in the sand; we can still raise our voice against faithlessness and brutality."

To do this, the financier and adviser to presidents proposed:

1. A neutrality law that will say to all the world: Come to America shores and buy munitions, supplies of food and all the commodities you want, so long as you pay for them over here and haul them away in foreign boats.

No Loans To Belligerents

2. A strict prohibition against loans of any kind of belligerents, preventing any American financial involvement in the fate of either warring side.

3. A defense force sufficient to repel any effort to invade American shores—"we must be ready to do it—it is not necessary to do it on the continent of Europe—by evacuating protection of ourselves and our hemisphere is war mongering, then I plead guilty."

4. Elimination where possible of "restrictions of barter, tariffs, quotas and self-containment."

Opposes Stimson Proposal

The Baruch statement advocated no timidity on the part of the United States, but was couched in the most restrained tones. It carried no condemnation of any nation in the world. It discussed results of national policies objectively, and pointed out that whatever treatment America metes out to other nations she must expect similar treatment in return.

Mandatory neutrality proposals and permitting cash-and-carry of non-military commodities have been tried before and failed, Baruch said. Frequently, he went on, this policy.

Two Are Injured At Harlansburg

Minnesota Couple Suffer Injuries In Collision At Road Crossing This Morning

Two persons were injured, not seriously, in a collision at the intersection of Routes 108 and 19, at Harlansburg at 10:35 o'clock this morning, when the automobiles driven by Herman C. Schneider, of Hines, Minn., and Lloyd L. Wilson, of Sharpsville, came together as a result of confusion over the change in the stop signs at this point because of the detour on Route 19 and 422 near Portersville.

Wilson, who was familiar with the highway was traveling on Route 19 and was unaware of the change, and instead of stopping, continued on through the intersection, striking the Hines car.

Mr. and Mrs. Schneider were taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where their injuries were found to consist mostly of bruises and lacerations. Wilson was uninjured, it was stated.

ROME, April 6.—Italy will establish a military protectorate over Albania in fact but not in name immediately.

Negotiations for an accord agreeing to this plan have been concluded by Premier Mussolini and King Zog, the Albanian monarch, International News Service learned upon unimpeachable authority today.

Troops To Sail

Between 40,000 and 50,000 troops concentrated at Bari and Brindisi and Ancona will sail across the Adriatic for Albania the moment the agreement "authorizing occupation" is signed.

This is expected to occur late today or tomorrow with the return to Rome of the Albanian minister, Col. Zef Seregi, one of King Zog's most trusted emissaries.

Background note: While Italian officials all along have appeared confident that Albania, long a satellite of Italy, would agree to military

McBride Post Has Election

Frank Concilla Named New Commander Of Veterans Of Foreign Wars

Frank Concilla was named commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the annual election meeting of the post, in the Legion Home building last evening. He will be installed at the next meeting and will succeed Ira Nowling, who has served for the past two years.

Other officers elected last evening are: senior vice commander, Tom McNickles; junior vice commander, Joe Mescal; chaplain, H. F. Wilson; quartermaster, Clarence A. Leslie; surgeon, Jack LaRue.

Plans for Memorial Day, Poppy Day and other activities of the post were discussed and arrangements for these events furthered.

Fire Discovered In Business Office

Damage Of Over $200 Results From Blaze Early Wednesday Evening

Fire of undetermined origin caused a loss of around $225 at the office of the Castle Distributing Company, 234 South Diamond Way, at 6:55 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The fire was discovered by a passerby, who ran to Central Fire Station nearby and gave the alarm. The blaze apparently started in a desk in the office, and spread to adjoining furniture. The damage to the building was slight.

Close To Hundred Small Chicks Are Cremated In Blaze This Morning

Fire which started from the oil stove in a brooder in a chicken coop owned by Edward Pivovar, of 912 Oak street, caused a loss of around $50 at 10 o'clock this morning.

Ninety-five chicks and four old hens were burned in the blaze, Mr. Pivovar told firemen.

No Forecast For Easter Yet

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 6.—Predicted snow flurries and colder weather today spelled a chilly Good Friday for western Pennsylvanians.

Weather Forecaster W. S. Brozman's prediction was "Friday, generally fair"—but in the same breath he forecast a drop in temperature and snow for later today.

He wouldn't venture to advise anyone on Easter Sunday's weather or what to wear that day, explaining simply: "It's too early to tell."

BERLIN, April 6.—German and Italian army chiefs mapped plans today to deal with rising tension in Europe as they pressed forward with joint military consultations at Innsbruck near the Italo-German border.

The staff talks were apparently intended to prepare the forces to the Rome-Berlin axis for speedy action should it become necessary.

Nazi quarters also indicated the military conversations might serve as a warning to the Balkan states regarding the dangers of aligning themselves with the Anglo-French entente and its efforts to form an anti-aggression or "stop Hitler" bloc in Europe.

Announcement Conferences

An official announcement revealed that Col. General Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, was in consultation with the Italian army chief of staff, General Alberto Pariani.

Reports circulated in both Berlin and Rome that Marshal Pietro Badoglio, chief of the Italian general

Coal Wage Parley Without Result

Deadlock On Wage Negotiations For Soft Coal Miners Not Broken Yet

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 6.—Union leaders and mine operators were still at loggerheads today in their efforts to agree upon a new labor contract for the Appalachian area as 320,000 soft coal members concluded their first week of enforced idleness.

Two sessions of the eight-man joint committee led by John L. Lewis, International president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the coal operators, yielded only reports of "no progress." Another meeting was held today.

Loss of production of the first week was somewhat mitigated by the fact that under normal conditions Good Friday is usually a mine holiday and under the five day week there is no work on Saturday.

Former President Of Carnegie Tech Suffers Third Stroke

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 6.—Physicians at the Presbyterian hospital today feared for the life of Dr. Thomas Stockham Baker, 68, president emeritus of Carnegie Institute of Technology who was reported in a critical condition following a third stroke.

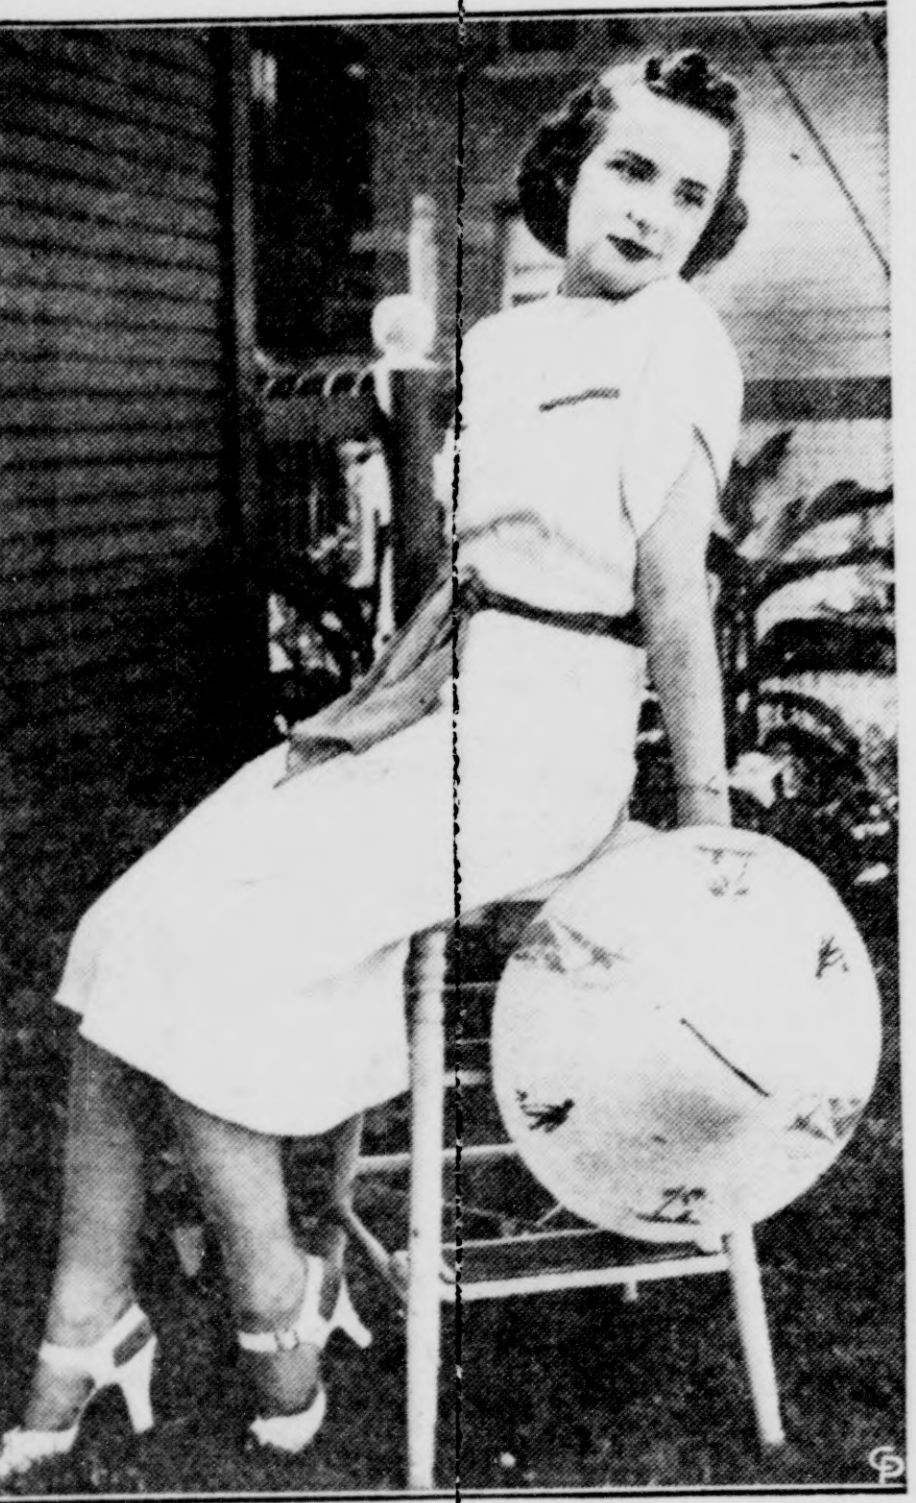

Ill health forced Dr. Baker to retire in 1935 after serving as president of Tech for 13 years.

Soviet Russia Is Not Pleased At Developments

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 6.—Moscow does not like the form European developments are taking under the mold of Great Britain, and it might become necessary for the Soviet union to adopt a policy of isolation, Ambassador Ivan Maisky said today.

Summoned to the foreign office Maisky was given details of the Anglo-Polish alliance by foreign secretary Viscount Halifax.

The Soviet emissary, it was learned expressed skepticism of the value of the pact, and general satisfaction with the European situation. He reminded Lord Halifax that Russia could defend herself, and might be compelled to keep aloof from all entanglements.

Four Services On Good Friday

Ministerial Association Sponsoring Four Simultaneous Services In Local Churches

SEVEN MINISTERS SPEAKING AT EACH

Four community Good Friday services have been arranged by the New Castle Ministerial Association. They will be conducted simultaneously from 12 o'clock noon until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and it is anticipated that attendance will be in large numbers.

The downtown services will be in the First Christian church on the Diamond and in Trinity Episcopal church on North Mill street. The South Side service will be in St. Andrew's Episcopal church on Long avenue and the seventh ward service will be in the Mahoning M. E. church on North Cedar street.

Speakers who will be heard on the words of Jesus Christ from the Cross are as follows:

First Christian—The Revs. J. A. Cousins, D. L. Ferguson, C. B. Winard, Thomas B. Shearer, A. M. Stump, Chester T. R. Yeates and Harold A. McCurdy.

Trinity Episcopal—The Revs. Rees T. Williams, F. E. Stough, C. H. Heaton, S. E. Irvine, J. J. McElvaine, J. G. Knippel and W. V. McLean.

St. Andrew's Episcopal—The Revs. Thomas B. Shearer, Nicholas B. Urbanovich, P. C. Millard, F. P. Stummetti, J. Albert Tinker, Rees T. Williams and Vasilios Maropoulos.

Mahoning M. E.—The Revs. D. C. Schnebe, E. G. Russell, J. A. Cousins, M. E. Shearer, E. A. Shoemaker, T. B. Shearer and D. J. Blasdel.

The services are so arranged that worshippers may come and leave when convenient. A number of business places will be closed during the three-hour period.

Rain Clouds And Fog Hang Heavy Over Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 6.—Low hanging rain clouds, fog and smoke today combined to plunge Pittsburgh into night-like blackness which saw motorists driving with headlights on and neon lights glowing throughout the city.

Weatherman W. S. Brozman said that the rain clouds would probably hang over the city almost all day and that only if a sharp wind were to invade the valley would the smoke and fog be blown off. He predicted a cold spell following the rains.

This winter lad is a rough tough cuss, he loves to brawl and he loves to fuss and he likes to make things tough for us, in the early days of the spring. He ducks back in where he isn't wanted, he finds the trouble that he has hunted, and the warm spring days get badly shunted for winter still wants his fling. And he blows and snows and he carries on, and poor little Spring looks downcast and wan, and she'll be that way till the winter is gone and the snowbirds are on their way, but today he's out in his icy force, with weather not fit for a man or horse, but spring will eventually win of course, its cool thirty eight today.

Fight In Congress Over Proposed Investigation Is Nearing Showdown

HOUSE COMMITTEE MAY MAKE PROBE

(Copyright, 1939)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor today, threw his influence behind the house movement for an investigation of the National Labor Relations Board.
"We should be very much in favor of an investigation of the board by a committee of the House," said Green. "It would not make any difference to us how it is conducted, so long as it is a real investigation."
"Such an investigation, of course, would deal with appointments made by the board, the character of appointments and many other questions."

Nearing Showdown
The fight in the house for an investigation is nearing a showdown with backers of the proposal certain that an inquiry will be made by a special committee or by the house labor committee. The rules committee has before it the resolution of Rep. Anderson (D) of Missouri for a sweeping inquiry.

Meantime the A. of L. marshalled its forces for testimony before the senate labor committee in behalf of its demand for revision of the Wagner labor act.
Green said the senate committee's hearing will amount to a "partial" investigation. Consideration of changes in the act, he said, must necessarily involve questions of conduct of the board and its employees.

MUSSOLINI TO SEND TROOPS INTO ALBANIA

occupation by Italian troops, the Albanian legation in London today announced.

Says Albania Will Resist
London, April 6.—A statement indicating Albania will resist any Italian attempt to land armed forces upon her shores was made by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today before the House of Commons.
The prime minister told commons he had just received from the Albanian government a denial of any report that the Tirana government had accepted conditions incompatible with Albania's independent sovereignty or national integrity.
Chamberlain added that an Italian cruiser and two small warships arrived at the Albanian port of Durazzo this morning, but that all was quiet at 8:25 a. m. (3:25 a. m. EST).

The aged prime minister announced that Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano informed the British ambassador in Rome, Lord Perth, that King Zog of Albania had suggested the existing Italo-Albanian should be strengthened.

Discussions on this point occurred, Chamberlain revealed, but difficulties arose which were not fully explained. These difficulties, Chamberlain said, caused Count Ciano to state that Italian interests had been threatened.
Jugoslavia Informed
Belgrade, Jugoslavia, April 6.—The Italian government has officially informed Jugoslavia that an Italian protectorate will be established over Albania, authorities disclosed today.
Rome advised Belgrade, it was stated, that Italian troops will land at three Albanian ports—Valona, Durazzo and Skutari—later today.
It was believed here that the Italian forces already are moving across the Adriatic sea toward Albanian shores. No official announcement of the landing was expected, however, until it has been carried out.
Official circles here said they did not expect Albanian troops would offer military resistance to the Italians.

evening, April 12, at 7:30 to choose a chairman and a secretary. Members are being notified of that organization meeting.

The newly elected association leader, Mr. Clark, one of the prime movers of the association, has served as president of Kiwanis here and as president of the Pennsylvania League of Building & Loan Associations. He is secretary of the New Castle Building & Loan Association. Bantz is associate manager of the New Castle Dry Goods company. McAfee president of Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company. Maher, cashier of Citizens National bank and O'Neill is one of the city's younger attorneys.

Attorney Charles H. Young, one of the new directors, served as temporary chairman and Maher as temporary secretary when the board convened last night. Young directed the election of the permanent officers.

Before the election, the board and the "formation committee" of the association, the group which developed the G.N.C.A. plan from the start, met jointly and reviewed the movement's short history.

Now $29.512 Pledged
The new directors start their job with a total membership of 970 and with $29,512 actually subscribed to carry on the organization's work in the first year.

Last night a special administrative committee, which has been interviewing prospective applicants for the position of executive vice president, the sole salary post in the entire set-up, made a preliminary report. Discussion, however, was continued until the next board meeting on Monday, April 17.

Requests City To License Bicycles

Junior C. Of C. Seeks Regulation Of Bicycles—Action at Council Session

Junior chamber of commerce today requested city council, in meeting in city hall today, to regulate the operation of bicycles here.

They were represented by Loyal Foster, who introduced Attorney Elmer O'Neill, who read the body's recommendations.

They would have the city license and register bicycles after the commerce body had inspected them as to their fitness for operation.

Bicyclists would be forced to obey safety first regulations.

No penal clause was requested, excepting that, as at present, theft of a bicycle would be met as it now is.

Adopt Ordinances

Council adopted ordinances which provide for the paving of Electric and Blaine streets as city-WPA projects and also for the purchase from E. H. Griffith of a tractor-lawn mower for Sylvan Heights golf course.

Oppose House Bill
Council went on record when a motion submitted by Councilman J. L. Fink expressed opposition to a bill, No. 292, introduced in the house of representatives, Harrisburg, which would turn over the power of the city to the county to take charge of all matters pertaining to assessment in cities of the third class.

Plan Legislation
Mayor Charles E. McGrath attended a meeting in Pittsburgh yesterday where mayors decided to have introduced in the state senate at Harrisburg next week a bill requesting legislation which, if adopted, will provide cities with a more equitable share of the gasoline fund.

At present the city receives no share, it was stated.

staff for all armed forces, is participating in the Innsbruck talks could not be confirmed officially.

A deep impression in Berlin diplomatic circles was created by news of the staff talks, coupled with word that Italy planned to establish an immediate protectorate over Albania where Italian troops are to be landed.

General Pariani, who is the Italian under-secretary of war, formerly was King Zog's military adviser in Albania. He is thoroughly familiar with conditions in Albania and throughout the Balkan Peninsula.

Hitler In Munich

Background note: One of the principal reasons for the Italo-German staff consultations appeared to be an effort to halt British efforts to form an anti-aggression front. It was recalled that Britain has made overtures to Greece, Jugoslavia and Turkey to join with Britain and France in a bloc aimed at both Germany and Italy.

The only communique so far issued regarding the Innsbruck conversations in Berlin said they would be concluded tonight. No information was given as to what specific topics were being discussed.

Meanwhile, Chancellor Hitler was reported in Munich only four hours traveling distance from Innsbruck. Innsbruck is only about 35 miles north of the Italo-German border at the famous Brenner pass, through which the main troop and supply movements between Germany and Italy would pass in the event of joint action in any conflict.

Military Alliance Seen

Berlin, April 6.—The Rome-Berlin axis will answer British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's efforts to create an international anti-aggression common front by transforming the axis into an open Italo-German military alliance and by tightening of Italy's grip on Albania. It was strongly indicated in Berlin today.

The first concrete reply of the totalitarian states to Chamberlain was expected in Berlin to be Italian Premier Benito Mussolini's transformation of the 1927 Italo-Albanian pact into an arrangement whereby Italy would go beyond her present control over the small Adriatic nation.

It was considered a strong likelihood, moreover, that the staff talks at Innsbruck between high German and Italian military officers would pave the way for an open military alliance between Rome and Berlin. These reports could not be officially confirmed today but weight was lent to them by the fact that Col. Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, will, on conclusion of the Innsbruck talks, go directly to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler. At the same time, General Alberto Pariani, Italian army chief of staff and under secretary of war, will hasten from the former Austrian city, just north of the Brenner Pass, to make a personal report to Premier Benito Mussolini in Rome.

Flower Of Italian Army

The soldiers, experienced lighters fully trained in mountain warfare, are the flower of the Italian army and among the best troops in Europe. They are of a much superior type to those sent to Spain during the civil war.

(The French foreign office announced today, according to a Paris dispatch, that France and Great Britain intend shortly to make a demarche to Generalissimo Francisco Franco, asking a full explanation of the new Italian troop arrivals in Spain.)

Nationalist officials said the departure of the present Italian forces was expected to take place soon after Generalissimo Franco's official entry into Madrid.

(A Berlin dispatch to the London Daily Mail asserted that General Franco had informed Germany and Italy of his willingness to join the anti-communist pact.)

Large Force Still In Spain
Although their presence was officially denied, International News Service learned on unimpeachable authority that there are more than 18,000 Italian Legionnaires still in Spain.

(A dispatch from Burgos, Spanish Nationalist military headquarters, today, reported that the government had denied reports of the arrival of fresh Italian troops in Spain.)

The total number of Mussolini's soldiers of all types, now in Spain, is between 50,000 and 60,000, and more are coming in a small but steady stream.

Italians are to be found almost everywhere in Spain, but mostly along the Mediterranean coast with a large concentration of veterans at Almeria where General Gamba, supreme chief of the Italian forces in Spain, is now making his headquarters.

RAINBOW GIRLS, NO. 1 INITIATION CEREMONY

New Castle Assembly No. 1, Order of Rainbow for Girls, held one of the loveliest initiation meetings of the season Wednesday evening in the East Lodge room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, with worthy advisor, Helen McCollum, in the chair. Mrs. Gula Hess was acting mother advisor in the absence of Mrs. Flossie Potter.

Miss McCollum and her corps of officers, conducted a most impressive initiation ceremony, taking in eight new girls. They are: Joan Crawford, Carol Hawkins, Bessie June Clark, Sallie Lu Fehl, Althea Green, Dorothy Kastner, Patricia Ann McClurg and Marjorie Smith.

The lodge room was beautifully decorated and along the side lines sat a large assemblage of parents, Masons and Eastern Star members.

During the evening, C. W. Herman Hess, chairman of the Executive Board of the Order of Rainbow, made appropriate remarks. Mrs. P. F. Urey, past mother advisor, also gave a talk to the young girls, and announced that plans were completed for the Easter Monday dance to be held on April 10, in the Cathedral ballroom.

Adding much to the evening's success, was the special program of choir music, under the direction of Mrs. Clifford Probst, choir director.

In conclusion, a social period was enjoyed, with a lunch being served by the committee in charge.

Meeting Tonight

The F. H. C. class of the First Congregational church will meet at the home of Mrs. Margaret Miller on Young street this evening.

Resumes Meetings

R. and R. club membership will resume their meetings this evening when they meet at the home of Mrs. Clarence Gillespie on East Washington street.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE AT FIELD CLUB HOUSE

Women members of the New Castle Field club enjoyed one of the series of spring parties at their club house on Wednesday afternoon, it being in the form of a luncheon-bridge. Mrs. Charles Whalen was hostess in charge.

Following the serving, contract bridge was in play with Mrs. J. R. Rick and Mrs. Louis Sandler winning the honor score prizes.

A similar event will be held again in two weeks, the hostess to be announced.

MR. AND MRS. STEVENS HOSTS TO 1934 CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stevens opened their home on Sheridan avenue, Wednesday evening to members of the 1934 club.

Four tables of cards were in play, with high score prizes awarded to Mrs. Ed. Fritz, Mrs. Charles Andrews, Willard Belknap and Harry Flinner.

Plans were discussed for a dinner party to be held on April 19, at a local tearoom. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stenger, will be hosts.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles Andrews and Mrs. Harry Flinner.

The next regular meeting will be held on May 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fritz, Fairmont avenue.

KELSO-SHAW WEDDING EVENT OF WEDNESDAY

In the living room of the Kelso home, before an embankment of ferns and spring flowers, Miss Alice Margaret Kelso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Kelso, R. D. 2, New Castle, became the bride of Paul Lewis Shaw, son of Mrs. Letetia Shaw, R. D. 3, New Castle, Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

A unique feature was the wedding march and several selections, including "I Love You Truly," "O, Promise Me," and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," played on the piano by Robert Brenner, a popular young local artist, during the ceremony, over the local radio.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street length gown of poudre blue silk crepe with an admirably blue jacket and japonica accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of sweet peas and pink reebuds. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. George Hudson, Jr., who wore a street length gown of mulberry color with royal blue trim. Her shoulder corsage was of white gardenias.

George Hudson, Jr., served the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception, and at 6 o'clock, a wedding supper was served at two large tables, centered with wedding cakes topped with miniature brides and grooms. Guests numbered 28, including the wedding party, immediate families and a few friends. A pink and white color scheme was carried out. Mrs. C. B. Wingerd was a special guest.

Dispensing with a wedding trip for the present, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will be at home in their newly furnished apartment at Walmo.

MRS. C. T. R. YEATES ADDRESSES SOCIETY

At the meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Third United Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, Mrs. Chester T. R. Yeates, wife of the pastor, gave an especially interesting account of their recent trip to "The Holy Land".

Mrs. Yeates related experiences encountered in their travels, and she unfolded many lasting stories of visits to the mission stations throughout.

The retiring president, Mrs. J. A. Wilson, who was in charge, introduced the incoming president, Mrs. Ira Alford, who took over her new duties.

A discussion of the Presbyterian, which will be held April 20 in the Third U. P. church, was conducted.

Preceding the routine period, with Mrs. William Reed participating, took place. The subject, "Our Christian Duty Toward the Jews", was the topic by Mrs. O. L. Rose, and "The Problems of Palestine" was the subject presented by Miss Minnie Howard.

The next regular meeting will be on May 3 at the church.

Yucatan Club Postponed

The meeting originally scheduled for Yucatan club members at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Seay on Highland avenue, Monday night of next week, has been postponed for a period of two weeks, because of illness.

Enon Valley Couple Is Wedded 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bennett, of Enon Valley, will celebrate the 50th anniversary of their married life on Tuesday, April 11, at their home. Open house will be observed from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mr. Bennett was born and raised near Enon, where he has spent most of his life. He is the son of the late Samuel Bennett, who served with Company G, 178th Infantry, and who died during the Civil War, while fighting for the northern forces. Charles Bennett is the only survivor of a family of eight.

On April 11, 1889, Mr. Bennett married Esther Webb, daughter of John and Eliza Webb, who had also spent most of their lives in the Enon district. Mrs. Bennett was born and raised in the home where she and Mr. Bennett now reside. Her father will be remembered as the only rural mail carrier between Enon and Youngstown, O., in the days of the old horse and buggy.

They are the parents of three children, William J. Bennett of Pombell; Mrs. Hazel Gersinger, of Alliance, O.; and Fred Bennett, of Enon Valley. They have ten grandchildren, included among whom is one set of twins, Donald and Doris Bennett, and four great-grandchildren.

The family will have a quiet anniversary dinner in the I.O.O.F. hall in Enon Valley on April 16, at noon.

SERVICE STAR LEGION LISTS IMPORTANT DATES

At the meeting of the Service Star Legion members held in the American Legion Home, plans were made for future activities, with several important dates being decided upon for social functions.

The first to be given consideration falls on May 2, the mothers banquet, with Mrs. May Hammond as chairman in charge of the entertainment. Mrs. Fannie Woolley will direct the kitchen duties while Mrs. Evelyn Woods is in charge of the dining room. Decorations will be overseen by Miss Anna Patterson. Of special interest, the group will have as guests the Gold Star Mothers.

On April 13, Mrs. J. F. Titus, president, will open her home on Edison avenue for a bingo party, play to begin at 8 o'clock. On Tuesday, April 18, another social event will again feature at the home of Mrs. Titus, for members and friends. Miss Anna Patterson and Mrs. William Runkle will preside in the role of co-hostesses.

NEW CASTLE GIRL HEADS SORORITY

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, April 6. — Martha Shaffer, Westminster college junior from New Castle, has been named president of Kappa Delta sorority.

Miss Shaffer, a major in music, transferred to Westminster last year from Bethany college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Shaffer, 210 E. Euclid avenue, New Castle.

Birthday Party

Miss Mary Aloe was pleasantly surprised on a recent evening when a group of friends gathered in her home in West Pittsburgh in honor of her birthday anniversary. Miss Judy Aloe was the hostess.

Card playing was the pastime, with prizes going to Helen Vessella and Margaret Seman.

Lunch was served by the hostess in the dining room, assisted by Betty Buchanan.

Miss Aloe was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

OFFICERS ATTEND W. B. A. MEETING

Women's Benefit Association, Review 98, held a meeting Wednesday evening in the Knights of Malta hall, East Washington street.

Two high officers of the lodge were in attendance, Mrs. Jennie Little, supreme captain from Toledo, O., and Mrs. Carrie Brandt, district deputy, from Harrisburg. Mrs. Little, in a fine talk, told the review of the plans for the W. B. A. pageant at the New York World's Fair on July 18, 19 and 20.

Mrs. Brandt, also spoke of the pageant, and of other activities of the lodge.

A delicious luncheon was served at a later hour by Miss Anna Patterson and her committee.

Junior P. H. C. Program
State Deputy M. M. Henlein of Erie presided over a meeting of the local Protected Home Circle Wednesday night in the I. O. O. F.

After the session the Circle was entertained by a short program presented by the Junior P. H. C. under the direction of the counselor, Mrs. Myrtle Rohrer. The program included the following presentations: reading, Betty Rohrer; reading, Billy Hamill; piano solo, Vivian Dukes; tap dance, Lenora Dukes; solo, Dot Speer; reading, Billy Bright; imitation, Wade Kennedy; and reading, Mary Lou Rape.

Special guests included Grand Secretary Joseph Spencer, with his wife and her mother, and Supervisor Ivan Ishman with his wife, all of Sharon.

Mrs. Helen Ray and her committee served a tasty lunch.

On April 19 the local circle will celebrate its 52nd birthday.

Club Changes Name

Silv-O-Lite club was chosen as the new name for their club by the Palsy-Walsy club members when they gathered in the home of Mrs. Frances Burgo, East Washington street, Wednesday evening. Ann Burgo was a special guest.

Mrs. Raymond Reed was honored with a gift from the club in remembrance of her birthday anniversary. A birthday cake also centered the luncheon table.

Cards and games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Goldie Pander, Mrs. Raymond Reed and Mrs. Phyllis Frank.

Next Thursday evening the club will have a theatre party.

Sewing Circle '39

Mrs. Ida Montozzi, Park avenue, was hostess to members of the Sewing Circle '39 Wednesday evening. Sewing was the chief pastime and club token was won by Mrs. Ubaldia Casalena. Special guests were Mrs. Flora Moretti and Mrs. Daniel Moretti.

The hostess was aided by Miss Evelyn Montozzi and Miss Mary Matricardi in serving lunch.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Nancy Iozzi, Morton street, April 19.

WHAT WOULD SPEAKER REED SAY NOW?

ANNOUNCEMENT that on April 1 the national debt topped forty billions for an all-time high had been long fore-shadowed. At this rate the statutory limit, forty-five billions, will be reached early next year. The deficit for the first nine months of this fiscal year is nearly two and a half billions.

When, just after the war with Spain, federal expenditures first exceeded half a billion dollars for a single year, Speaker Reed remarked in extenuation that this was "a billion dollar country." The congress of which he was such a conspicuous member was the first billion-dollar congress in our history, having appropriated that sum during its two-year term.

Now, despite remarkably low interest rates, annual interest on our public debt equals the whole cost of running the government forty years ago. By next July the debt will have more than doubled since March 4, 1933. Between 1919 and 1930 about ten and a half billions were cut from the debt. Since 1930 twenty-four billions have been added.

These figures relate to the gross debt, not counting the five billions or more borrowed by various federal agencies authorized to issue securities and whose obligations are guaranteed by the government. There are thirty-nine such agencies having assets and liabilities separate from the treasury's regular finances. A large portion of these assets are classed as "recoverable," but by how much remains to be determined.

Statistics generally make dull reading. But these figures should be read and studied by every taxpayer—and that means every person in the land. For nobody can avoid hearing his share of this terrific burden. Of course the government can't return to its modest budget of four decades ago. But does it have to be eighteen times as big?

300,000 TO BE MURDERED?

Although dimly aware of the facts before, because of its mathematical definiteness, we find something sharply arresting in the statement of a Department of Justice official that 300,000 persons now living in this country will some day be murdered.

This means that in spite of all the education, the moral and religious training, the attempts to improve those social conditions which may incite to violence, and the likelihood of punishment for murderous acts, one out of every 400 of us is almost certain to be shot, stabbed, poisoned, choked, or black-jacked, and that approximately another one of each 400 is destined to be the instrument of our unexpected and unpleasant demise.

Besides provoking a shudder at the thought of our own danger when walking home in the dark, these figures should inspire some very sober thought. Just what stage of growth and evolution have human beings reached? Evidently it is a discouragingly low one.

We talk much of prosperity, of liberty, of culture, and so on, but it appears that there are deeper problems to be met than these about which we daily raise such argumentative hullabaloo. What of the fundamental ethical sense which is supposed to be an attribute to civilized man? That also is sadly lacking.

In a part of our work for the elevation of the race we must still go back to the elementary stages and strive to make ourselves just simply moral. Many of us, it seems, are only emerging from savagery, if not from unbridled animalism, and have a long climb ahead before we can properly be called civilized men.

DO WE UNDERSTAND THEM?

Since the conference in South America to quicken the friendship between the United States and the Latin countries, the good neighbor policy does not seem to be developing quite as satisfactorily as could be wished, despite the enthusiastic pronouncements of returning diplomats as to the amount of good having been accomplished there.

The trouble between the United States and Mexico because of the expropriation of the property of our citizens down there without recompensation, has not been settled. And there have been reports of plans to increase foreign trade between Latin America and European nations, which would, of course, be in some measure at the expense of our foreign trade.

Now newspapers in the United States are reporting a campaign on the part of certain South American newspapers, especially in the Argentine Republic and Uruguay, against our diplomacy. The latest expressions of dissatisfaction come over the proposal of Senator Pittman that we lend money to South American nations to build some warships in the United States.

The theory, of course, is that if South American countries buy warships here these will be used later on to fight fascism in the Southern Hemisphere if and when Mussolini and Hitler come over there for action.

In view of the united feeling of our own people from Maine to California, in one solid nation, the plan looks good to us. But our South American newspaper critics say that we do not understand their psychology or their national aims. This may be true. For it is to be remembered that the South American nations are not united in thought and feeling as are the people of our commonwealths within the United States. Wars between Latin American countries are by no means uncommon—the recent bloody struggle between Bolivia and Paraguay is an example. While the governments of these nations are all apparently republican, as is ours, yet some of them incline to fascism and others to socialism. Few if any of them are permeated with our ideals of representative democracy.

Many of these nations therefore are rivals. They are jealous and suspicious of one another. Each can easily believe, therefore, that if his neighbors buy warships and munitions from Uncle Sam, these warships and munitions may be used against it instead of directed at Mussolini and Hitler. For example: Argentina is frankly critical of our proposal to lease warships to Brazil. Brazil and Argentina are age-long rivals and Argentina does not relish its prospect of Brazil's having a navy equal to or larger than its own.

Furthermore, the South American countries, notably Argentina and Uruguay, are peeved because we do not buy more farm products from them. They declare that instead of lending them cash to buy warships we should be willing to take wheat, corn and wool in payment.

So there you are. It would seem difficult to make good neighbors out of some of these nations unless we open our markets to a flood of alien farm products. Of course, we want to make them friendly but it is doubtful whether it is worth sacrificing the American farmer—already in serious financial straits—to bring this about.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW OF CHILD'S SCHOOL?

Did you know that there are five school fires a day in the United States? Suppose your child were in one of them.

Does the school building where your child goes have adequate fire escapes? Do all its doors open outward? Are you sure? Is his school regularly inspected for its safety? Is the inspection dependable?

And are the children where your child attends school given proper fire drills? All too often the fire drill is a machinery, teachers and children merely treating it as a nuisance interrupting them. A fire drill, to be effective, must be carried out with the teachers and children not knowing if there is a fire in the building until all are out and counted. But in the average fire drill the pupils know it is a fire drill and enter it half-heartedly. How absurd when so many precious lives are at stake!

Strict Discipline

Something may be said in favor of the leisurely, free way pupils and students walk through the halls and up and down the stairs in the modern school. But if such is the usual practice, there is all the more need of training in strict discipline, yes, military discipline during every fire drill. It is a matter of life or death when there is a fire, and if children are to escape a burning building they must have been practiced in effective "escape."

The principal and teachers who feel the responsibility for the lives of their children will take fire drills very seriously and see that the children do. There must be stern discipline.

Serious Matter

I'm not for having children march out of the building in military formation ordinarily, yet I am sure they should do so in every fire drill. One in file, eyes straight ahead, all silent and attentive to business.

And the fire drill should occur at the most unexpected moments, perhaps when children are in gymnasium, cafeteria or assembly hall.

By all means every crippled or blind child, or a child otherwise handicapped, should be taken out in every fire drill. And every one should be accounted for in each group when out of the building. Effective fire drill at school should render children more safe at church or theater. And is there any good reason why there should not be fire drills at Sunday schools and moving picture shows? What do you think?

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

VERY IMPOLITE.

Upon his official visit to the United States in the Fall of 1931, Marshal Petain, French war hero, was scheduled to decorate a memorial on the campus of St. John's College in Annapolis and receive an honorary degree from the College.

The Marshal, however, failed to make his appearance at the appointed time but walked upon the scene while the ceremonies were in progress with water dripping from his medals and gold braid.

An investigation revealed that as his motor car reached the outskirts of Annapolis, the city's fire department was extinguishing a blaze near the road. Petain, always interested in such conflagrations, ordered his chauffeur to stop so that he could observe the activities. After some time, during which the firemen got control of the blaze, one of their number spotted the Marshal's white beard hanging from the window of the car and suddenly turned the hose on him, sending him on his way—and introducing the polite Frenchman to the social amenities practiced by the American.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

ALIEN LANDS

Time was I sailed across the sea
A selfish dream or two pursuing,
To study archeology
And learn what other folks are doing.

And though their speech to me was strange
And different colors marked their banners
I found that there was little change
In joys or sorrows or in manners.

They suffer from the self-same griefs
That all too often set us weeping,
And keep the very same beliefs
In God that we, ourselves, are keeping.

Their lives from, cradle to the grave,
Were ours repeated to the letter,
And they were struggling to be brave
And seeking ways to make things better.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:30. Sun rises tomorrow 5:35.

When dictators appear to make speeches behind bullet proof screens we get an idea of what they think they might expect. They know better than anyone else what they should get.

The gypsy season is about on. Keep your hand on your pocket-book and everything else that can be taken up quickly.

In our travels around we have noticed what appears to be racketeering in religion. Some birds will racketeer in anything it seems.

A woman shopper asks the price and examines each article. A man says: "Gimme six of those."

BUSINESSLIKE

We all know how easily we can slip into the vernacular of the shop, but the instance of the banker called upon to say grace shows how habits of routine may become evident at unexpected occasions. "Dear Lord, we thank Thee for all Thy favors of recent date. Permit us to express our heartfelt gratitude. We trust that we may continue to merit Your confidence and that we shall receive more blessings from You in the future. Amen."

There is a Methodist church in St. Petersburg, Fla., that holds four services every Sunday. There are about a thousand people standing on the streets waiting until the services end so they can attend the next one. It may be that some don't have any other place to go and it's easier than sitting on the green benches.

Business will be practically suspended from the Dixie Inn to Portersville for some time now. A new road is being built and those traveling in that direction should get their bearings before starting from New Castle.

VERY UNSATISFACTORY

"I don't think there's anything wrong in asking for an increase of salary," said the clerk to his employer. "You may remember you promised me a raise when I had been with you a year."

"I know I did," rejoined the employer, "but didn't I make it conditional upon your giving me every satisfaction?"

"And in what way, sir, haven't I given you satisfaction?" asked the clerk.

"In what way?" replied the employer, with a show of anger. "Do you think you are satisfying me in asking for a raise?"

There would be fewer people lay off their work sick if they did not get paid for the days they are off. It don't take much to make some birds sick if they are sick if they get paid for it.

Why does the dog catcher neglect the North Hill?

There are many more garages than houses being built. Garages are more important and they are mostly all built to hold two cars. Where there is only one car the hope exists that there will be another one.

COVERAGE

Abel Faivre, a French cartoonist of note, who designed the best poster of the war, "On les aura" (We'll get them), once perpetrated an insurance joke. One of his cartoons shows a fireman rescuing from a burning building a corpulent lady in a state of nature—what was conventional with Mother Eve, but not approved by the department stores of the present time. The gallant and considerable life saver inquires of his burden if she is not afraid of catching cold. "Oh, no," she replied, "I am covered by insurance!"

If you have what it takes—use it!

Over a million and a half motor cars ran out of gas on the roads in the past year. Some birds just don't think.

MIRACULOUS FRICTION

The insurance adjuster who had been investigating the fire turned to go.

"I came down here to find out the cause of this fire and I have done so," he remarked.

"That's what I want to know. What caused it?" remarked the house owner.

"It's a plain case of friction."

"What-ya-mean—friction?"

"The fire was undoubtedly caused by rubbing a $3,000 insurance policy on a $2,000 house."

Revised: Nothing is certain except death and increased taxes.

Most bandits know where to go for money. One is the liquor store and the other is the gas station. There is always some money in both of such places.

"He sold framed copies of the Declaration of Independence in England."

All a person needs to be a radio comedian is a dead conscience, a good memory and a pair of shears.

A flock of gals in the New York World's fair had to quit rehearsing on a stage in the open air because the weather was too chilly. So that's to be the sensation at that fair. Formerly only one gal put on the rough stuff.

Mr. Nooweed—Do you suppose it will spoil the curtains if I smoke? Mrs. Nooweed—Why, you big thoughtful man. Of course it would. Nooweed—All right, then. You'd better start taking them down.

"Why don't you make up with your husband?"
"I can't. I've forgotten what we quarreled about."

When a man talks about his "dinky little house," he is being modest. When his wife does it, she is complaining.

Speaking for one taxpayer, we should be glad for Secretary Ickes to have his gall bladder drained at government expense.

Johnny (from the city)—This is just like grass, ain't it? Billy (a country lad)—Why, this is grass, Johnny.

Johnny—Oh no, it ain't, 'cause you don't have to keep off it."

Parents are getting optimistic. They expect a little kid to keep his sweetness, but of his meanness they say: "Oh, he'll outgrow it."

Appointments Win Acclaim
Brown, Henderson Are Liked
Filled Important Positions

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 6.—President Roosevelt made a couple of exceptionally interesting appointments a few days ago—the appointment of Fred H. Brown to the comptroller generalship of the United States and the appointment of Leon Henderson to the chairmanship of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The posts are intrinsically important and Brown and Henderson are an outstanding pair. The General Accounting Office, which Brown is to head, is a congressional post. The White House doesn't like it a bit in its present form and tried to get it modified into practical nothingness under the recently adopted governmental reorganization bill, but Congress wouldn't stand for any change. The Securities and Exchange Commission is a White House pet regarded as sacred by many congressmen. It's pretty popular, though, its legislative foes knew they were as powerless to abolish or cripple it as the executive mansion was to tie a can onto the general accounting office.

The comptroller general decides whether or not items of government spending are legal. It can rule against a certain item; whereupon the government can't go ahead with it. Naturally this enrages the executive end of the government, which does the spending. The SEC bosses the stock market and corporations' doings generally. Conservative lawmakers complain that it's unduly interfering—a business deterrent. But there are not enough of them to do anything about it.

Clashing Philosophies

The SEC is a New Deal institution. New Deal appointees have run it thus far, William O. Douglas, just elevated to the federal supreme bench, was the latest of them. Henderson's another. It goes almost without saying that it suits the Roosevelt administration perfectly. The GAO is a survival from pre-New Deal days, when economy was the watchword. Its policy has been muddling tight-handed for a freer-spending regime.

The GAO has been a nuisance to the Roosevelt folks in another respect.

They didn't care as to the SEC. If the SEC head didn't satisfy the Rooseveltians they could displace him whenever they chose. They didn't choose to displace him, for he agreed with him hitherto—and so, presumably, will Leon Henderson.

On the other hand, the comptroller general was really as unchangeable as the Washington monument. Congress provided that, once appointed, he couldn't be removed, for a 15-year term except by impeachment (which is mighty difficult). And at the end of his 15-year term, he couldn't be reappointed. All of which made him as close to independence as the traditional hog on ice.

John Raymond McCall got the position. It was in the ante-New Deal period, and McCall might have been reckoned as an impending New Dealer; he'd been private secretary to Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, and if Senator Norris isn't a New Dealer, who is in Washington?

Yet McCall has been "anti" throughout.

Well, he served out his 15-year term and now is practicing private law in the capital.

New Deal Into Its Own
Meantime Assistant Comptroller General Richard M. Elliott has been acting as comptroller general. He's been as "anti" as ever McCall was.

It can be taken for granted that the new appointee, Brown, will be as amenable as desired—unless he turns rambunctious, as McCall did. Heaven knows about that. He used to be a senator from New Hampshire. He was considered a radical. But if you can't tell about Senator Norris' ex-private secretary, how can you tell about anybody? Ex-Senator Brown has 15 years to serve in miscellaneous situations, anyway. Heaven help him!

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Vice President Garner cautions his associates in a Texas housing venture not to go too deeply into debt.

"It is not wise to bite off too much in the beginning."

PORTLAND, Me.—Federal Judge John A. Peters urges naturalized aliens to avoid "alphabetical relief."

"This country is no place for drones or leisure classes. People supported by the government are merely eating off their fellow-citizens."

NEW YORK—Howard Conoley, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, charts the nation's need.

"If we are to preserve democracy it must be a joint undertaking of business, labor and agriculture, with the government cooperating in the joint undertaking—a joint cooperative project to revitalize the proven system of our progress in the interests of all the people."

SAN FRANCISCO—Dr. J. B. Nash, New York educator, sees no harm in hard work.

"Few men kill themselves from overwork. It is over-work, over-rush, over-drink, over-eat and under-sleep that are the killers."

NOT SO BADLY

"Your hair wants cutting badly," said a barber, insinuatingly, to a customer.

"No, it doesn't," replied the man in the chair. "It wants cutting nicely. You cut it badly last time."

Upside Down

Washington, April 6. THINGS are really upside down in Washington, and it is not surprising that people generally are confused. The New Deal has reversed the normal governmental processes in such a way as to baffle even those whose business it is to observe.

ON some of the major issues before the country the President and the Congress have completely changed their normal positions. For example, on the great question of the waste of public funds—always the big threat in a democracy—it is the Congress which is fighting to restrain the President, not the President who tries to curb the Congress. If there has been a parallel to that in our history no one seems able to recall it.

ALWAYS in the past it has been the Executive who has stood for retrenchment and the legislative branch which has tended to cast aside considerations of solvency in appropriating and spending the taxpayers' money. This has been as true with the Governors and the State Legislatures as with our Presidents and the Congress. That was the normal thing. In Washington today this is no longer the case, and the nation now is treated to the unprecedented spectacle of a Congress whose leaders preach economy to a President of their own party while the President resists and resents.

AND not only does the Congress preach economy but it practices it. It reduces the President's national defense appropriations, refuses to give him the full amount he demands for relief, pares millions off the farm proposals; looks coldly upon suggestions of further subsidies for special interests and altogether behaves as no Congress, without White House leadership, has ever behaved before. Moreover, it resists the strongest kind of pressure from the White House; from one of the great labor factions and from various radical organizations pretending to represent large numbers of voters, all urging it to go in the other direction. And it stands up against the outrageous White House suggestion that it is indifferent to human suffering.

IT IS true that the savings of a hundred or two hundred millions thus effected are not very great when compared to the billions being poured out, but that isn't the point. The point is that it is Congress which has called a halt; it is Congress whose leaders issue ringing economy statements; it is Congress which put into the preamble of the Reorganization bill a statement that continuing deficits are dangerous and economy is the great need of the hour. The further point is that in taking this attitude the Congress reflects what at any rate its members believe to be the sentiment of the people as well as the necessity of the Government. Actually one member of the Administration, Mr. Mariner Eccles, an avowed opponent of economy—in a strangely worded statement, publicly conceded that this sentiment exists and that the country does not want to go on with the unrestricted spending which Mr. Roosevelt and himself have urged.

OF COURSE, the most amazing thing about the situation is the contrast between Congress and the President. In 1932 and part of 1933 Mr. Roosevelt was the most vigorous advocate of economy and retrenchment in the country, the most vehement opponent of deficit borrowings, the most vivid prophet of the national disasters inherent in a huge debt and an unbalanced budget. Up to 1937, although launched upon a vast spending program which piled the debt mountain high, he regularly talked economy and stressed the necessity of balancing the budget.

THIS year, largely, it is held, under the spell of Mr. Eccles, for the first time the President held out no hope of a balanced budget, except through the spending process, and he not only failed to urge economy, but actually insisted that any effort to retrench would invite disaster. In fact, he went beyond that point and practically defied Congress to attempt any reductions. He is now in a state of mind where any suggestion of economy irritates him. His disposition is to regard it as a personal need. That under such circumstances Congress should have persisted in its refusal to give the vast sum asked for relief, resisting a safe kite flyer observes these rules:

1. He never flies his kite near electric wires of any kind.
2. He never runs across streets or highways while flying his kite, but keeps to fields or grass plots.
3. He never climbs poles or trees to knock down kites caught in wires. Better to lose a kite than a life.

SETS MARK FOR PAROLE BREVITY

(International News Service)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 6.—"Out again, in again Albert" is a name that fellow convicts could well apply to Albert Jackson, a Negro inmate of Spigner State Prison who undoubtedly holds some kind of record for shortness of parole.

The man walked forth from the confines of the prison at 3 p.m. He was to have been a free man for thirty days if he behaved himself.

Jackson, however, was not free long. At 6:15 state police radio broadcasts revealed that an automobile had been stolen 35 miles north of Spigner. An hour later the newly liberated man was apprehended by highway patrolmen near Birmingham—driving the stolen auto. He was returned to Spigner prison.

the full weight of the Administration pressure supplemental by the threats of the Workers Alliance and other kindred agencies, is extremely significant.

IT would have been remarkable had Congress been dominated by the Republicans, but when it is considered that in both branches there is an overwhelming majority of the President's own party, the fact is literally amazing. The only possible deduction seems to be that members of Congress know that the voters in their States and districts have turned strongly against the basic New Deal policy of unlimited spending and utterly disbelieve in the President's theory that the way to prosperity lies in a continuation of that policy. It has taken them long time to reach that stage but they seem to be there now.

'GRAND CANYON' OFF WEST COAST

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Exploration of a new "Grand Canyon" is under way off the coast of California.

Comparable in size to the Grand Canyon of Colorado, the recently discovered Pacific ocean canyon was found to be extremely difficult to explore. It is located off Monterey and Carmel and doubt was expressed that anyone will ever traverse the floor of this new canyon and live to record his findings.

Dr. F. P. Shepard, geologist of the University of Illinois, working from the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography, however, has undertaken the task of exploring it—but from a floating research laboratory.

His exploration is conducted by soundings and dredgings and a study of the water at different levels.

The canyon was found to be 7,000 feet deep. A cross section outline showed it to be similar in depth, size and contour to sections of the Grand Canyon in Colorado.

SAFER SAFETY GLASS

PHILADELPHIA—A new, more resilient, laminated plate glass has been perfected having four times the shatter-resistance of present types at normal temperatures and ten times the strength at zero, according to the Franklin Institute.

exander, New Castle artist and special student at Westminster college has been hung in the display room of the McGill Memorial library, Westminster college, with the closing date, Monday, April 17.

Graduate of New Castle high school, Alexander attended Westminster as a special student in art, under Prof. H. J. Brennan art department head. While studying at Westminster, Alexander decided to make painting a life-career. For subjects he uses, typical scenes around New Castle, the industrial

The verdict in the first of several appeals from awards of the Public Utility Commission was taken in court room number two on Wednesday. The jury awarded Roy and Erma Raub $540 damages which is about $140 above the original award.
Presently being tried is the case of Walter and Roy Raub against the

The damages are assessed fifty-fifty against the defendants.

Wednesday the case of James Dacko against the Cartwright Hardware Company of Ellwood City was taken up in court room number one.
The case arises out of a purchase of what was intended to be linseed oil by Dacko for a sick horse.

Dacko alleges that he was sent a quart of what later proved to be creosote and believing it to be linseed, oil he gave it to the horse. The horse sickened and later died. He is suing for the value of the horse,

Committee Will Meet On Formation Of New V.F.W. Post

Plans For Organization Of New Post Will Be Furthered
This Evening

Another meeting of the organization committee of the new Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, which is being formed here, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Fountain Inn, when plans for the formation of the post will be furthered.

All veterans who have had overseas service in any war or campaign recognized by the United States are eligible to membership and if interested, are asked to attend this meeting.

Plans for the new post are shaping up nicely, and more than enough applications have already been received than is necessary to send for the charter, but this matter will be held open until next week.

Location of the new club rooms will be decided upon at the meeting this evening, and other matters of importance.

licenses are available and it seems safe to say that upwards of 2000 have been issued. Look out trout!

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

From ABCs we have gone to our ZKs.

From Vitamins "A" to "K".

K stands for the Danish spelling of "koagulation".

This new vitamin aids blood coagulation.

It helps stop hemorrhages following certain operations.

Especially operations for gall-stones in the common bile duct.

A stone in this duct causes obstructive jaundice.

Hemorrhage used to occur in one-fifth of cases operated on.

Between 10 to 40 per cent of these bleeders died.

Vitamin K has practically eliminated this hemorrhage.

Scientists hope it may lead to a cure for hemophilia.

Vitamin K may show the way.

Girl Scout Sale Reported Success

Funds Raised Will Serve To Augment Budget For Current Year

The Girl Scout cookie sale in the vicinity of New Castle, officially held on Tuesday, is termed an outstanding success. Miss Martha Bigley, chairman, was aided by Miss Helen MacLean, Girl Scout head.
Thousands of boxes of cookies were distributed to the various troops throughout the city, which in turn, were delivered, the orders having been taken the two weeks previous.

Proceeds for the sale will go towards balancing the budget of the Girl Scout Association. Inasmuch as the Community Chest will be unable to give to each organization the full amount needed for their special project, this sale will serve as a medium of making up the difference.

These facts were brought out at the council meeting held in the Greer Building, which was preceded by an executive board session, an hour earlier. Mrs. F. E. Sowersby, commissioner, presided.

Miss Helen MacLean's contract as director of the local Girl Scouts, was renewed. Also, she was granted a month's vacation in July.

Highlights of the topics discussed, included day camp and permanent camp, to be held during the summer.

It was reported another new Girl Scout troop has been registered with the National. This particular troop will meet in Trinity Episcopal church under the leadership of Mrs.
Travis French. With this additional troop, there are well over five-hundred Girl Scouts in New Castle.

Opponents To Canal Appear

Ask City Council To Rescind Action Which Endorsed Project

COUNCIL DECISION COMING MONDAY

Council met in the municipal building this morning and adopted a motion which will result, Monday, in city fathers either adhering to, or withdrawing endorsement of, the proposed Ohio river and Lake Erie canal.

The motion, submitted by Councilman Alexander, was passed four to one, Dunlap dissenting. The measure was introduced, following two hours discussion, voiced opposition to the canal by rail and union officials.

Prior to Alexander's motion having been introduced, Councilman Dunlap had presented a motion, endorsing a former councilman action, endorsing the proposed canal, rescinded.

Councilmen Dunlap and Fink cast favorable votes. The other councilmen voted negatively. Mayor McGrath and Councilman Alexander felt this would be a hasty move and desired to give the problem more consideration.

Alexander then presented a motion stating that inasmuch as council had not had information previous to receiving it this morning that no answer be given until Monday, Dunlap cast a negative ballot on Alexander's motion.

Representatives of the railroads and unions stated they deemed the motion satisfactory. The public hearing in Washington on the proposed canal will not be held until April 11, and they may be postponed until April 17.

None of those present today spoke in favor of the canal. All of them opposed it. They agreed it would injure rather than help New Castle. Some declared it would aid Youngstown to the detriment of New Castle.

Incidentally Ralph Audino, Trades

& Labor Assembly, with a membership of 4,500, declared the assembly recently had voted opposition to the proposed canal. Today was the first time council received knowledge of this vote, the mayor stated. Those who voiced opposition to the canal were:

W. T. Saul, general chairman, Order of Railway Conductors, P. R. R. Lines west.
P. R. Doyle, president of Shopcrafts, B. & O. R. R.
I. L. Harper, general foreman, B. & O. shops.
M. A. Bickett, freight agent, P. & L. E. R. R. (speaking as property owner).

Edward Fisher, P. R. R.
R. B. Fisher, general car foreman, B. & O. R. R. did not speak but forwarded to council a communication, expressing opposition, which he had issued to the press.

Alexander's motion, in brief stated: That, on account of council not having had certain information, because of haste in not concerning all factions and in answer to opponents of the proposed canal the council would guarantee them some action but would not recall the councilmanic endorsement given recently until the proposed project had been given all consideration due.

It passed.
During the discussion Mayor McGrath said that, insofar as he was concerned, he has believed the question one for officials in Washington and not for the city council to decide.

WIELDS BAR OVER "ERRING FENDER"

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, April 6.—Louis Koszta had an automobile.

The automobile had a fender. And the fender, according to Louis had a habit—a very annoying one. It was always bumping into things.

So, one night after Louis had been partaking, Patrolman Lad Rousal came upon him wielding a crowbar over the erring fender.

"It's that fender again," Louis explained. "It just smacked into that car ahead of me. I can't do a thing about that fender. It's always hitting things."

Louis received a suspended $50 fine and 60-day sentence with the agreement that he would junk the 1932 auto and pay for $15 damage done by the fender with the habit.

WALNUTS CLEAN FURS

(International News Service)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 6.—

The well-groomed San Antonio woman owes much of the attractiveness of her furs to California walnuts. The walnuts, specially ground and mixed with cleaner, are used to remove grime from furs. The new mixture is found to be much more effective than sawdust which was formerly employed. The shells keep the oils in the fur for longer wear, and when the cleaning job is done they come out without brushing.

Kiwanis Club Told Of NYA Activities

Members Hear Mrs. Hewitt,
County Field Supervisor,
Review Work

The National Youth Administration program in Lawrence county brings a payroll of $3,000 here every month, members of the Kiwanis club were told Wednesday in the luncheon address given before them by Mrs. Olive Hewitt, Lawrence county field supervisor for NYA.

"That amount of money is strictly for payroll and not for materials or anything else," Mrs. Hewitt, speaking in The Castleton, declared.

Introduced by Judge Thomas W. Dickey, the speaker explained just how business and industrial interests of this community may help and have helped—NYA students find permanent employment. She praised the assistance given by one of the Kiwanians, Alderman L. C. Mantz, in finding a place for one student recently.

While the payroll here totals $3000 a month, Mrs. Hewitt stressed that the entire supervisory costs of NYA throughout Pennsylvania amounts to less than two per cent of the total expended.

J. C. Pello, assistant district supervisor for NYA with headquarters in Pittsburgh, accompanied Mrs. Hewitt to the luncheon. He was introduced.

Featuring the meeting were vocal numbers by a trio of Kiwanis ladies, Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, Mrs. Chester P. Reynolds and Mrs. James H. Buckner. They were presented by Chester P. Reynolds of the Kiwanis music committee. Judy Sypher, club pianist, was their accompanist.

Yesterday marked the start of a spirited attendance contest for the New Castle Butler and Wilkinsburg Kiwanians.

Shaw Is Named State President

Named To Head Milk Producers' Organization At Meeting In Butler

Milk producers of the state were organized into one cohesive group on Wednesday afternoon April 5 when a meeting was held in Butler, Pa.

John B. Shaw, of Washington township, Lawrence county, was named state president of the organization and with him the following officers were named: Vice president, James McCandless, of Butler; secretary, Walter Wigan, of Sarver; treasurer, Walter Windshimer, of Bridgeville. Directors will be the presidents of each county unit.

Plans were furthered for the appearance of the organization in Pittsburgh in the near future when the Milk Control Board will hold another hearing on the price of milk recently set. The association expects to fight for a more equitable adjustment of the price reduction, so that the farmer producing the milk will not have to absorb 80 per cent of the cut.

Milk producers in West Virginia and Ohio who operate in the Pittsburgh milk shed will be organized also and with the combined strength the milk producers expect to be able to convince the Milk Control Board of the equity of their claims.

Commissioners Take No Action

Make No Endorsement Of Either Side In Canal Proposal

No action either for or against the proposed Lake Erie-Ohio River canal will be taken by the Lawrence county commissioners it was announced today. In the past week proponents and opponents of the idea had conferred with the commissioners in an effort to enlist their support for the views of the groups.

"As county commissioners we believe we should have more facts before us concerning the cost of the canal," said President Floyd L. Cotton. "No one has shown us what the cost will be to this county in the way of damages or right-of-way and we do not want to commit the county to a large expense until we know exactly where we are going."

"We have decided that we will not make any endorsement of either side of the question and will not have any representatives in Washington D. C. April 11."

Impressive Rite Planned By Greek Orthodox Church

Procession Of Cross On Good Friday Night In South Side Section

SERVICE IN MEMORY OF CHRIST'S DEATH

St. George Greek Orthodox parish, of 125 East Reynolds street, will present one of the most colorful and impressive outdoor religious ceremonies ever to be seen in New Castle, on Good Friday evening, April 7, beginning at a quarter past 9 o'clock.

The procession of Epiphany will start from the church promptly at the time mentioned and proceed west over Reynolds street, south on Jefferson street to Long avenue, east on Long to Pollock avenue, up Pollock to Reynolds and back to the church.

At the head of the procession a band will play the Funeral March and other music appropriate to this most mournful day in the Christian calendar. At the head of the procession also there will be banners, a large cross and six wings. The Epiphany will be decorated by beautiful flowers and will be illuminated by 78 electric light globes of all colors.

Upon the return after traversing the South Side of the city, the procession will march three times around the church and then stop at the front door, remaining in silent reverence until the worshippers pass through the threshold to the auditorium for the regular Good Friday services.

The procession will be followed by members of all the Orthodox churches of New Castle, the St. George pastor Rev. Vasilios Markopoulos, announcements, and by members of St. Andrew's Episcopal church of Long avenue. The pastors of all these churches will also participate.

Rev. Markopoulos is asking that all the churches along the line of parade be open that night, for the procession will stop at every crossroad and at every church to read prayers.

TOWNSEND MEETING

Friday evening, 8 o'clock, at the Court House, there will be a Townsend District meeting, sponsored by No. 4 Glenmore Club. J. E. Robb, state representative, will be the speaker. Musical entertainment will be furnished by the Lawrence Castle Four.

SOME PEOPLE FEEL LIKE CONDEMNED

Women Can Sleep Easily

By Mary Myers

"Being a woman myself, I know that women, as well as men, find it extremely difficult to fall asleep for hours after they retire—that others become fully awake after they have slept for just a short time, then find it almost impossible to go back to sleep. The next day they are nervous, unstrung, highly irritable. Before meals and retiring I take World's Tonic. That's ALL I do. In about 15 minutes, tense nerves are completely relaxed, that taut feeling goes and I get a good night's sleep. All ingredients in World's Tonic are tested. Why put up with another sleepless night or nerve-racking day when you can enjoy glorious relaxation with World's Tonic? Skillful blending of roots and herbs with valuable alkalines enables World's Tonic to help prevent premature aging which poisons accumulating from constipation may bring on. Get World's Tonic at Eckerd's, Paisley's, and all other first-class Drug Stores. (J 11)

State Regains Potato Market

Proper Grading And Packing results In Demand For Pennsylvania Potatoes

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 6.—More than 3,000,000 bushels of Pennsylvania's 1938 potato crop were marketed in identified trade-marked bags or containers according to figures compiled by the Pennsylvania department of agriculture. This is in contrast to less than a half million bushels so marketed in 1935.

By properly grading, packing and merchandising their crops Pennsylvania growers are making a strong bid toward regaining many markets that were looking elsewhere for their potato supplies. By supplying markets and distributors with properly graded and identified packs, prices comparable with those paid for the best potatoes from other sections have been secured. In many instances a premium was paid for the Pennsylvania product.

New Castle Triplets Progressing Nicely

While the approach of the Easter bunny means nothing to Clara Mae, Gertrude Ann and Thomas Matthew Johnson, New Castle's four-month-old triplets laughed, tossed about their tiny beds and even let out an occasional "coo-goo" when they were visited by this newspaperman, yesterday in the neatly arranged nursery of their South New Castle Borough home which sits on a knoll overlooking the city, far away from the hustle and bustle of the busy streets.

As the reporter was admitted to the interior of the clean home, the "trips" were sound asleep, but not for long. The heavy sound of the reporter's feet ascending the stairs broke up the nap. They immediately opened their beautiful blue eyes as soon as their mother raised the shade and glanced about the room. Suddenly, they laughed, tossed about their beds and let out something that sounded like "coo-goo." (The infants commenced to notice objects and recognize their parents only recently.)

At the time of their birth, the "trips" weighed as follows: Clara Mae, 5 pounds 2 ounces; Gertrude Ann, 4 pounds 14 ounces; Thomas Matthew, 5 pounds 5 1/2 ounces. Their present weight is 10 1/2 pounds, 10 1/2 pounds and 11 pounds, respectively. The babies are the picture of health.

Mother Is Happy
"I'm happy about my babies. I still can't believe it. It was a wonderful experience," Mrs. Johnson exclaimed when she was questioned. Asked about the care of the children, the proud mother said "It's like a job in the factory. It's quite a job. But, I have had no trouble whatsoever because I am not spoiling them, in fact I can't because there are three of them. And my husband is as proud as could be."

Continuing, she said: "When I iron clothes, I do it in the nursery room. I sit them up in their beds and you'd be surprised the way they sit and look at me." As she finished, she caressed the infants.

As the babies grow, so do the problems of the parents. Their cribs, which were borrowed when they were removed from the hospital to their home, are commencing to get a bit small and they certainly can use larger beds. Because of the lack of funds, the parents fear that it will be some time before they can afford larger beds.

As the reporter started for the door, the "trips" let out another "coo-goo" as if to say "good-bye."

SPRING SHIPMENT OF SEEDLINGS BEGINS

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 6.—Shipment of forest tree seedlings from the Department of Forests and Waters, State Nurseries for reforestation purposes in Pennsylvania was begun this week.

Approximately 15,000,000 seedlings and transplants will be shipped this spring; an increase of nearly a million and a half trees over the same period in 1938.

Liberty Grange Confers Degrees

Candidates Are Initiated At Meeting Of Grange In Hall Tuesday Eve.

Members of Liberty Grange met in the grange hall Tuesday evening, when the degree team, under the direction of Captain Francis McCracken conferred the third and fourth degrees in an impressive manner.

The tableaux, presented under the direction of Mrs. Mae Locke, were beautifully done. A business meeting followed, at the conclusion of which lunch was served to a large group by the social committee.

The next regular meeting of the grange will take place on Tuesday evening, April 18. An interesting program will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Jean McCracken, the lecturer, which will feature a play, with music and readings by the younger members.

ANTITOXIN PROTECTS CHILD FROM RAVAGES OF SCAR- LET FEVER

We have two Americans, G. F. and G. H. Dick, to thank for most of the work that has been done to curb the ravages of scarlet fever.

These investigators were the ones who discovered that the bacteria which caused the infection was one of the streptococcus family. Having discovered this, these men went on to discover the poison, or toxin, that the disease produced. Still later an antidote for this poison—an antitoxin—was discovered.

As in the case of diphtheria, however, this antitoxin gives protection only for a short period—ten days is about as long as it can be depended on. It has been used not so much as a preventive but to treat and neutralize the toxins in the acute stages of the infection.

I mean that when a child becomes very sick from scarlet fever, the antitoxin is administered so that it may help the system fight the poisons. Of course other children in the family receive it if they have been exposed to the infection.

I remember very well when this antitoxin first became available. It was hard to get, and very often the patient developed tremendous itching and a hive-like rash. I can remember mothers coming to me the day after I had given it to a child and telling me what they thought of it—and me. However, that has been remedied. The antitoxin has now been purified, and it does its work without any such manifestations.

Many of the large laboratories throughout the country now manufacture the antitoxin in this manner. The poison, or the toxin produced by the bacteria, is injected into a horse. The animal doesn't contract the disease, but his blood produces an antitoxin to fight the toxin that was injected. After a time, some of the horse's blood is removed, just as we remove blood from humans for a blood transfusion. This blood, when injected into a patient who has scarlet fever, works to neutralize the poisons produced by the bacteria causing the disease.

The two experimenters mentioned above have gone further. They have developed a test which will show whether a person is susceptible to scarlet fever or not. They do this by taking a minute quantity of the toxin and injecting it into the skin of the front of the arm. If the child is susceptible, there will develop in 24 hours a reddened area in the skin where the needle was inserted. If no red spot develops, then the child is immune.

If your doctor discovers that the red spot does show up after a day, then the child will be given a shot of the antitoxin which will protect him for a period of ten days—unless he is again exposed to the infection. By the end of ten days, the danger of contracting the disease should be well past, and the sources of contagion well under control.

State Senate Committee Facing Problem On State Revenue

Fear Revenue Will Be Lower

Based On Income Tax Returns State Tax Program Will Not Net Enough

SPECIAL SESSION MAY RESULT LATER

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff

HARRISBURG, April 6.—The senate finance committee today attempted to reconcile requests of Pennsylvania business interests for revision of the emergency tax program with the need for increased revenue.

Heightening its difficulties, as the committee strove to whip the $163,000,000 tax program into shape for final passage next week, was the revelation that the anticipated revenue from the corporate net income tax may fall 25 per cent below expectations.

Would Be Hard Blow

This would mean a loss of approximately $14,250,000 in anticipated revenue for the next biennium and would place Gov. Arthur H. James' fiscal program, already hard-pressed, in a difficult position. If true it would practically necessitate a special session of the legislature unless the general assembly increased taxation at the present session before adjourning.

The revelation that the anticipated income from the corporate net income tax, major source of revenue of the eight Earle administration tax levies now being re-enacted, may fall below expectations was made by Sen. Harry Shapiro, Philadelphia Democrat, a member of the finance committee, and was understood to have aroused considerable concern among the committee.

Income Tax Lower

Shapiro pointed out that federal income tax returns for this year from Pennsylvania corporations were 25 per cent below last year's estimates, an indication, he said, that Pennsylvania's revenue from the same corporations would be correspondingly reduced.

Shapiro said the yield from the corporate net income tax during the past biennium was $57,000,000 and that a 25 per cent reduction would therefore indicate a loss of $14,250,000 for the next biennium.

Meanwhile, representatives of business interests pressed their efforts to have the tax program revised as an aid to Pennsylvania industry, appearing before a second hearing of the finance committee to urge their requests.

"Four Star" Drive Will End Sunday

Campaign Of Sunday Schools Will Conclude In County On Easter

"Every one out day" is the designation for Easter Sunday which will close and climax the "Four Star" increase campaign in which 65 Sunday schools are participating and which is being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School association.

It is believed that the four goals of the campaign have been stimulated and that evangelism, Sunday school attendance, church attendance and Bible study have been promoted by this combined effort.

Some of the Sunday schools of the city and county have had remarkable gains all along the line, while practically all have made progress of varying degrees. Year before last there were 11 Sunday schools participating in the pre-Easter increase effort, last year there were 34, and this year the number has increased to 65, which has required more organization, detail work and reporting.

News Briefs From City Hall

Ford auto, 1937 model, Pennsylvania license J898A, owned by John Banks, 1214 Highland avenue, was stolen from in front of that place last night, police were informed this morning. State motor police and city authorities are searching for the vehicle.

During the past week or more through apprehensions and interrogations in detective headquarters, many of the reported East Side,

North Hill and auto accessory thefts were solved. Detectives continued today to pursue an investigation headed by Police Chief Ralph A. Criswell and Detectives' Chief Ray H. Showalter into several North Hill thefts reported during the past weeks. Detectives also were inquiring into the theft of a lavalliere from an apartment in the Hamilton block, yesterday.

A tire and tube were stolen last night from the car of W. J. Michael, 309 Leasure avenue, city police were told today.

TAKE HER TO DINNER

As a little surprise on Easter Sunday, why not invite HER out for dinner? After tending with cookstoves, recipes, doorbells and book agents for months, the wife would appreciate sitting down to dinner in a hotel, where she ordered what she wants and got it the way she wanted it. That means Castleton service of course. Don't ask her if she wants to go. Tell her she's going. She'll love being bossed—when the boss says "we're going to The Castleton for dinner."

Fourteen Months Old Actress In Hollywood Making Film Earnings

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1939)
(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, April 6.—Like those young people with magazines and whatnots who ring your doorbell at the most inopportune moments, Sylvia McClure, Hollywood's youngest actress, is working her way through college.

It's hard to believe because Sylvia, blonde and blue-eyed, is only 14 months old.

But her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClure of Los Angeles are taking a substantial portion of her film earnings and putting them in a special fund for Sylvia's education.

She should have about enough by the time she finishes her role in her fifth picture, "Young Mr. Lincoln."

The new $1,500,000 production at 20th Century-Fox. She portrays the daughter of Richard Cromwell and Arleen Whelan. Cromwell and Edie Quillan are two brothers being defended by Henry Fonda, in the title role, against a murder charge.

Previously Sylvia's best role was being the daughter of Carole Lombard and Jimmy Stewart in "Made For Each Other." She also played with Hedy Lamarr and Spencer Tracy in "I Take This Woman," temporarily on the shelf, "Everybody's Baby" and "Picardy Max."

Sylvia has a four-year-old sister, but she isn't in pictures.

"We've been told she's too old," Mrs. McClure explains with a laugh.

It may or may not prove a thing, but it's amazing the number of screen folks who have the same number of letters in their first and last names.

Just look at them:

It may have something to do with the fact the great majority of screen folks make up their own names.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The Holy Land of three great religions is in turmoil as this Easter dawn and the Passover is celebrated.

The Holy City is patrolled by armed soldiers and the highways are guarded by machine gunners. Riots and rebellion trouble authority and the way to tranquility is not yet shown.

But with all the tribulations and agonies of a world cursed by fear and the threat of war, Easter continues to signify something profound and indispensable. It signifies that if the believer wrestles to keep his faith, even more does the unbeliever wrestle to hold on to his doubts.

This day, commemorating the triumph of life over death, echoes with those intimations of immortality the saddest skeptic never wholly banishes from the depths of his consciousness. The earth renews itself in the annual resurrection of the Spring. All that seemed dead in nature rises again, and man yearns to do likewise. He casts off his old clothes and comes forth preening, or at least he does who is closest to the sources of life. This is an impulse beyond reason. However, the mind denies or the spirit falters, "the flesh rests in hope," sings the poet of the Psalms. Easter repeats the word all generations of men lean to hear.

"Though He be dead, He shall live."

For centuries there were great theological controversies about the proper date for Easter. For the first two centuries of the Christian era, it was celebrated by most eastern Christians on the day of the Jewish Passover, the 14th day of the first Jewish month. The western churches celebrated on the Sunday after the 14th day. In the year 325 A. D., the Council of Nicea ruled in favor of the western churches.

The present movable feast, known as the metonic cycle, was not officially established until 1582 when the Gregorian calendar was arranged.

So Easter, the most important feast of the ecclesiastical year, falls on the first Sunday after the first full moon after the vernal equinox. But this is not our real moon. It is a make-believe moon, paced so that Easter might never fall on the same days as the Jewish Passover.

This happened, however, in 1805, 1825, 1900 and 1927. Usually, the Passover falls in the week before Easter and never before March 26th or after April 25th.

In medieval times the fixation of the Easter date was comparable, as a public issue to our endless controversy over the gold standard, or the stabilization of currency. Great libraries were written on it. Whole scholars crossed Europe to consult with some other savant, or examine some ancient document. The Venetian Bede, father of English learning, provides what appears to be the earliest record of the origin of the name. It began as the festival of "Ostara," ancient Teutonic goddess of Spring, says Bede.

The origin of Easter eggs seems to have been lost in remote antiquity but it generally is believed that the custom grew out of the ancient acceptance of the egg as a symbol of resurrection. For Easter brings the birth of Nature, the swelling of the buds on the tips of bare branches, the faint appearance of the pale and lovely green. Many once more stands face to face with the miracle of life unfolding before his eyes. Once again we thrill to the music of the spheres in a budding leaf.

Here in New York we await with eager interest that vast outpouring which expresses in laughter, color and flowers the passing of Lent and the dawning of the sweetest period of the year. Young women in the gayest of Easter frocks. Young fellows with topknots slung across their arms smiling at the girls, older folk sedately pace along the first horse-drawn hacks of the season, weather-beaten old drivers, in their handoms and four-wheelers, feeling the stir of youth and their minds turning back to the glories of the Gay Nineties.

An old cabby waves his whip toward General Sherman, forever riding southward upon his golden horse.

"I remember," said he, "when the timothy grass was three feet high around the entrance to Central Park and all gold with daisies and dandelions. There were grand Easter parades in those days. And a man had to be careful not to get too close to the ladies in front of him 'less he'd step on their trailing dresses. They didn't have these dinky little hats then. The hats they were stood up like a basket of fruit or flowers and were two and three feet wide."

Past the iron man rolls an endless procession of motor cars, six columns abreast, between the towers of Fifth avenue. Overhead roars a mail plane speeding westward at 200 miles an hour. Off in the haze to the southwest a silver blimp floats in the sunshine. He sees them not. His faded eyes are turned to the long ago, to the Easters of his youth.

The times have changed and New York has changed, but the Easter parade will still go surging on its joyful way, young and old exulting in the coming of Spring, in the good material things of life, and inspired, perhaps more than they know, with things that are not material, with the eternal miracles of God.

POINT SYSTEM FOR CAMPUS OFFICERS

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 6.—Aiming at securing more disciplinary control over students, the Westminster college student council has voted into existence a new point system for campus officers, which will prevent a single student from holding too many class offices.

Members of the council, chosen at the beginning of each school year, are: Rex Rowland, president, New Castle; Robert Wallace, E. Liverpool, Ohio; Floyd Ewalt, Polk; Robert Lauterbach, Erie; Stanley Lutton, Buffalo, New York; Ray Smiley, Builer; Joseph Hopkins, Laurel, Md.; John Galbreath, New Wilmington; Richard Kennedy, Butler; and Jack Sarver, Pittsburgh.

How could Germans build their world-dominating air force in three years? Well, you see, they didn't spend all their time scheming to stay in office.

Appointments Are Made In Mercer

Changes In State Highway Department Are Announced

In Adjoining County

(Special To The News)

MERCER, April 6.—Mercer county's first patronage appointments under the new Republican administration will be effective on April 10, when James G. Dimmick, Greenville, officially will take the place of Anthony Hoban, Sharpsville, as county superintendent of state highways, it was announced today.

Five other changes in the highways department also will become effective on that date. Harvey W. Orr, Mercer, will become county assistant maintenance superintendent, taking the place of Leo Kinney, Mercer.

Harry M. Bowman, Mercer; David J. Dunn, Wheatland, and Alex S. Jackson, Stoneboro, will become junior grade assistant superintendents and Norman E. Keiser, Sharon, will become equipment clerk.

Bowman, Dunn and Jackson will replace Lawrence A. Redding of Parrell, James L. Zahner and Paul S. Cusick both of Mercer. Keiser will succeed Joseph Stanfa of Greenville.

ARREST THREE IN AUTO THEFTS

Police Report Two Admit Part In Damaging And Robbing Autos

Chief of police Ralph A. Criswell today stated that city detectives and police pursuing an investigation led by Chief of detectives Ray H. Showalter, Wednesday apprehended three persons in connection with the reported theft of auto wheels and tires here recently.

The persons in custody are: George Rich, 21, 420 Blunston avenue, charged with larceny; Alfred Burgo, 19, 486 East Washington street, charged with larceny; Edward Mariacher, 35, 1319 Pennsylvania avenue, charged with receiving stolen goods.

The arrests were made by Detectives Chief Ray H. Showalter, Detectives J. Young, J. Moore and Traffic Policemen G. Sigler. Rich and Burgo confessed the alleged thefts, according to Criswell after they had been quizzed by Showalter.

Mariacher denied charges of having disposed of the wheels and tires for the youths.

Cars Concerned
The boys reportedly confessed having stolen wheels and tires from cars owned as follows:

Paul Cuba, 402 1/2 Spruce street; car parked in Taylor street, April 2. John Anderson, New Bedford; car parked in Neshannock avenue, April 1.

Albert Veri, 210 Montgomery avenue; car parked in South Mercer street, March 20.

Henry Kolajay Morris street; car parked in Grove street, March 7. John Whalen, 509 Glenmore boulevard; car parked in alley near Grove street, March 6.

The youths were also asserted to have stolen wheels and tires from three other automobiles.

They claimed to have given Mariacher some of the wheels and tires which they say he allegedly disposed of giving them in return $14.50, police report.

One wheel was thrown into the Neshannock river beneath the South Jefferson street bridge, another tire was sold to a youth whose name the youths claim they do not know, police say. Rich is said to have kept several tires.

Mahoning, Juniors Cop Hi-Y Floor Tilts

While a throng of Hi-Y rooters cheered for their teams, Mahoning school's Hi-Y basketball team defeated both the Ben Franklin and George Washington Hi-Y teams, and the Junior Class Hi-Y players downed the Sophomore Class Hi-Y squad in the opening games of the Hi-Y basketball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday.

Mahoning took Franklin 43 to 3, and Washington 44 to 5. The Junior Class team won over the Sophomores, 25-10.

Shenango township Hi-Y players and the Union township team will oppose the Mahoning and Junior Class teams at a later date.

JOINS SON AFTER THIRTY YEARS APART
(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal.—A mother's appeal to Canadian newspapers reunited her with her son after 30 years' separation.

Mrs. Bert Mansell left her son in the care of friends in Ontario when he was a baby and went to Alaska, she said. Later she moved to Oroville, near Sacramento. In the meantime, the friends ceased their correspondence.

The son, Joseph Cookson, an electrician and now the Mayor of Sudbury, Ontario, was located after Mrs. Mansell wrote to several Canadian newspapers, asking them to help find her son.

She said she will go to Sudbury "as soon as I can get my things in order."

"Topsy" Driving Shows Increase

Intoxicated driving motor vehicles here showed an increase during the month of March according to a statement by Police Chief Ralph A. Criswell after he had compiled a report of police activities last month. During the past month six persons were arrested on that charge, the chief asserted.

Rocket ships, unlike airplanes, need no atmosphere to sustain their flight. In fact, they can travel in a perfect vacuum.

Extensive Plans Being Made For Elks Easter Dance

Nineteenth Annual Charity Event To Be Held On Friday, April 14, In Ballroom

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—Extensive and elaborate arrangements are being made for the 19th annual Elks Easter dance to be held on Friday evening, April 14, by the local Elks lodge, in their attractive new ballroom.

This is the event of the year locally and nothing is being left undone to make it equal and if possible excel the many completely successful Easter dances of the past.

Joseph Wilkowsky, as general chairman, is piloting the affair in his experienced manner and is being greatly aided by Philip Blandine, sub-chairman, and a great many capable committees. Committee chairman include: Music, Lonnie Withrow; decorations, Ken Parker and Lewis Nickum; publicity, Thomas J. Newman; reception, J. L. Steckman; finance, George Hemmerly, Sr.; invitation, Gray Gordon; floor, James Shirk; and booster, George Hughes.

A leading and nationally known orchestra has been engaged for the gala affair.

Caldwell Funeral Held On Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Thompson Caldwell, who passed away on Monday morning in the providence hospital, Beaver Falls, from injuries received many weeks ago when she was struck by an automobile, were held on Wednesday afternoon from the First Baptist church of Beaver Falls.

The pastor, Rev. Jacksett, pastor of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley, in conducting the services which were very largely attended by bereaved relatives and friends. There were many beautiful floral remembrances.

Mrs. Caldwell was born and raised in North Sewickley township and for many years was a member of the Providence Baptist church and after moving to the Valley always maintained an active interest in her home church.

During the services, a mixed quartet sang two lovely and appropriate selections, "Sunrise" and "Good Night and Good Morning." Interment was made in the Grove cemetery.

Among the local people who attended the services were Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Hazen and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hazen, of Frisco.

CLASS POSTPONED
ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—A meeting of the Doremus class of the First Baptist church scheduled for Friday evening in the form of a tureen dinner at the church has been postponed until further notice.

"Take S.S.S. Tonic this Spring, so my Diary tells me"

"I know from experience I will be happier when I feel better and look better."

And the reason for this is quite simple. Worry, overwork, undue strain, colds, and sickness often reduce the blood's strength and vitality.

But you may rebuild this strength by restoring your blood to normal, in the absence of an organic trouble, with the famous S.S.S. Tonic.

S.S.S. helps build you up further. S.S.S. Tonic whets the appetite... foods taste better... natural digestive juices are stimulated, and finally, the food you eat is of more value... a very important step back to health.

Buy and use with complete confidence and we believe you, like others, will be enthusiastic in your praise of S.S.S. Tonic for its part in making "you feel like yourself again."

At all drug stores in two sizes. You will find the larger size more economical. © S.S.S. Co.

Grilled in Husband's Slaying

Her face etched with grief, Mrs. Gertrude Sutphin enters a police car after being held for questioning in connection with the fatal stabbing of her husband in their New York City flat. Found throwing water over the body, when a janitor investigated water dripping through his ceiling, Mrs. Sutphin said she remembered nothing about the tragedy except a quarrel over the way she cookedveal chops.

Baptist Mission Groups Assemble

Mrs. Paul Conner, Mrs. Glen Funkhouser, Mrs. Garfield Thomas Are Hostesses

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—Mrs. Paul Conner was a pleasing hostess to members of Group Four of the Women's Missionary society on Tuesday evening at her home in Pittsburgh Circle.

All took part in the devotional period after which a general discussion followed.

During the evening officers were chosen as follows: Captain, Mrs. Caroline Jones; secretary, Miss Sarah Fisher; and treasurer, Mrs. George Meyer.

Mrs. James McAnlis was a special guest.

In serving a dainty lunch, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. David Jones, Jr. The place of the May meeting will be decided.

Group Five
Members of Group Five motored to New Brighton, where they were graciously welcomed by Mrs. Glen Funkhouser for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Jack Belfoff, Mrs. Howard Guy and Miss Norma McNeill, of this city, were special guests.

After devotions, Miss Mary Worrell read articles from the mission magazine.

Plans were made to hold a social at the church on Tuesday, May 2, and the regular meeting on Tuesday, May 9, with the place to be determined.

Group Two
For their monthly session, members of Group Two were received in a pleasing manner by Mrs. Garfield Thomas at her home in Hazel avenue.

U. P. Church Names Trustees

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—At the annual meeting of the congregation of the First United Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, four trustees, Frank E. Potter, W. H. McCormick, Albert H. Gardner and Harvey Wright, were elected.

Floyd Wilson will continue to serve as moderator and Miss Pearl Asher as congregational secretary. Reports were given by various treasurers of the church.

Following the preparatory service on Friday evening, a number of elders will be elected.

EASY ACES CLUB MEETS WEDNESDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—Mrs. Everson Skewis charmingly entertained members of the Easy Aces club on Wednesday evening at her home, in Wiley Hill.

Mrs. Theresa Tritt was a special guest and was given a nice favor. Five hundred held the attention of the group with the awards going to Mrs. Herschell Tritt and Mrs. Joe Kraynack. Miss Billie Skewis aided her mother in serving a refreshing lunch.

For the next meeting on Wednesday, April 19, Mrs. Tritt will entertain at her home, in Park Gate.

Shelby Socials Plan To Enter County League

Baseball Nine Is Organized With Dick Friedhoff Being Named Captain

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—The Ellwood City Shelby Social baseball team has been organized and definite decision has been made to enter the Lawrence county league and favor entering a proposed tri-county league.

Walter Landgraf will continue to serve as president of the team and he has appointed Dick Friedhoff as assistant manager and team captain.

The team roster will be about the same as last year and as soon as weather conditions permit practice sessions will be held every night at the Ewing Park diamond.

Any player that would like a try-out for the team is invited to attend a practice session and to be present at a meeting of the team to be held on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Shelby club house.

Plans Announced For Eagle Court

Norbert Rossman, Donald Howells, Paul Gamble To Be Given Coveted Award

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—The highest honor in scouting, the Eagle award, will be presented to three Ellwood City scouts, Norbert Rossman, Donald Howells and Paul Gamble, at a special Eagle Court of Honor to be held on Friday evening, April 14, in the First Presbyterian church.

Plans are being made to make this event one of the outstanding courts of the year with Dr. G. S. Bennett, Lawrence county council president, to be the speaker. Arrangements for the event were made when the April session of the Ellwood City District was held in the scout room of the city building. The meeting was very well attended.

E. Walter Gamble, advancement chairman, said that the largest court of honor in the history of this city was held on the last Friday of March.

Thomas Ben, activities chairman, much to the pleasure of the council, withdrew his resignation and will continue to serve in his usual capacity.

Stanley Wilson accepted the assistant secretaryship of the Ellwood district.

Arrangements for the financial boy and girl scout drive to begin with a house-to-house solicitation on Monday, April 17, were announced by the chairman, J. J. McLaughlin. The funds, a goal of $2,500 has been set, will be used to carry on scout work in this community.

Ernest B. Ritchie gave an interesting report of the explorer's training course held on Saturday at Warren and attended by seven local leaders. The group were much impressed and enthusiastic over the course and already plans are underway in this city to start a senior scouting activity, the purpose of which is to hold the interest of the boy who has outgrown regular scouting.

Ellport Council Has April Session

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—At a meeting of the Ellport borough council on Wednesday evening a committee was appointed to protect the curtilage of W. P. A. laborers in Ellport borough to the W. P. A. headquarters.

In the absence of President William Biddle, J. A. Gallaher presided. Committees were also appointed to investigate various complaints, including a request for payment of a tire claimed to have been damaged by a street condition.

A great many complaints were received concerning dogs running loose, and action will be taken to have the condition remedied.

Edgar Funeral Time Announced

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—Funeral services for Jack Edgar, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edgar of 616 Hazel avenue, who passed away on Wednesday morning at the late home following a lingering illness, will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bell Memorial Presbyterian church.

Rev. Joseph E. Pringle, pastor of the church, will officiate with interment to be made in Locust Grove cemetery.

SLIPPERY ROCK SOCIETY MEETS

ELLWOOD CITY, April 6.—Members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church assembled on Wednesday at the church.

Quilting was the day's diversion with a tempting tureen luncheon being enjoyed at noon with Mrs. William Deemer being chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Ora Travis, the new president, conducted the business meeting. Next meeting date is May 3.

Rubin As Tough As Joe Grimm

Local Boy Carries Dynamite In Glove But Is Wide-Open

SWATVIK TO BOX CHAMBERS

Pennsylvania vs Ohio will be the interstate fistic dish served in The Arena Monday night when eight scraps are staged. Eight of the Pennsylvaniaans will come from Lawrence county and the ninth from Butler county. The remaining seven live in Mahoning county, Ohio. On the calendar are a number of battles known better for punch than science. To illustrate this, consider Mickie Rubin, the light-heavyweight of this city. He owns three points: He is as tough as was Joe Grimm, a heavyweight of 30 years ago. He hits a la Jack Dempsey. He fights wide open like Luis Firpo. However, his aggressiveness has caused fans to like him and, if Manny Amado, his Portuguese opponent, can out-game, out-punch and out-box Rubin, Amado will have assured himself future bouts here. Rubin has defeated more opponents than he has suffered defeats. However, he can be stopped. He has been kayced here. However, his hard attack has usually brought a win. Frankie Moran, a local featherweight who fights right foot forward, always ready to crash a left to the chin, has more polish than do a majority of 126-pounders hereabouts. Time and again, he has coupled science to punch and spilled opponents. Whether he can deposit Frankie Stovich, Youngstown, sparring mate of Mike Condella, upon the floor remains to be seen. Staged Good Battle Frankie's most severe pugilistic ailment is his feet. However, the last time he was in a fistic war, he moved fast and put up a "wow" of a battle. West Pittsburgh Will Have Fine Baseball Field

West Pittsburgh baseball fans are anxiously awaiting start of work on the new baseball field for the West Pittsburgh "Gas House" gang. City Baseball league champs for the past two years. The new field according to Manager Danny DeGenova, will be located at the end of the new concrete highway on the northern edge of West Pittsburgh and will be easy to reach from New Castle in a few minutes. The ground is owned by the Penn Power company, and it is through the courtesy of Louis B. Round, superintendent, that the West Pittsburgh team can have a home field again. The new power plant is utilizing the old West Pittsburgh diamond. Supervisors have promised to scrape and roll the new location and put it in first class shape for the coming baseball season. West Pittsburgh owns the distinction of having won a championship in the tough City League and did not play any games at home.

Sylvan Heights May Open Saturday

Manager Hart Hopes To Have Course Open For Play This Week End. Manager Walter S. Hart of the Sylvan Heights course stated today that he is making every effort to have the course open for play on Saturday of this week, although the official opening of the course is not scheduled until the following Saturday, April 15. The course is in good condition, and many players have been out already getting limbered up for the opening of the season. With a few days of warm weather the course will be in excellent condition. No change has been made in the rates this year, Manager Hart states.

Camera Studies Rhythm in Stride of Great Horse, Kayak II

Camera catches what the spectator misses watching a race horse head for home. The horse is Kayak II, owned by Charles S. Howard and victor in the recent Santa Anita handicap. Note the perfect uniformity of motion and muscular co-ordination that gives Kayak II the right to be termed one of the really great horses of the turf, a right to be classed with Seabiscuit, Sun Beau and War Admiral.

Ryantown Team Will Be Strong

Manager Joe Samuels of the Ryantown baseball team said today that West Pittsburgh had better watch out this year, because with a new young team at his command, the veteran of the West Side ball lots expects to be in the thick of the City League pennant fight. The Ryantown team will have a meeting Friday night at the Norman Robinson home, Sampson street, at 7:30 o'clock to discuss plans for the coming league season. Not one of the old familiar faces will be found this year on the Ryantown roster. Samuels said. Samuels says that he is building a whole new team. Homing pigeons were used by the Romans.

SOFTBALL TEAM TO MEET TONIGHT

The Strollers-Spencers softball team of 1938 will be known as the "Gus" team this year, and tonight at the home of Bird Riley, at 7:30 o'clock the team will have its first meeting of the year. Jack Llewellyn is the playing manager of the team. Dale "Skinny" Wehr will be the field manager and Bird Riley will handle the business end of the team. The following are on the roster: Carson, Lane, Gunther, Dwyer, Ray Kelley, Tex Kelley, Crane brothers, Evans, Riley, O'Brien, Dart, Nocera, Smith, Potter, Quinto and Dely.

JUNIOR SOFTBALL MEETING FRIDAY

A meeting of the managers and officials of the junior softball league will be held Friday night at the "Y" at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be conducted by Jack Llewellyn, president of the league.

INDIES WANT GAMES

The New Castle Indies would like to book games with all city and junior softball league teams, according to Manager F. Augustine. Call 4651 for games. The Indies are using Rotary field as their home grounds. Next Tuesday the Indies meet the Richfield team at 5 o'clock.

Rising Golf Star

Russell To Manage Slovak Ball Club

Former Well Known Second Baseman Will Direct Team In City League

Steve "Snag" Russell, former well known baseball player with Youngstown in the O. & P. league back in 1929, will manage the Slovak club in the City League this season. It was announced today. The business manager of the team will be Henry "Dugout" Duganski. Russell started his baseball career many years ago with the old South Side Indies team. He advanced quite rapidly as a fine second-sacker and got a job on the Jeannette team of the Middle Atlantic league. He also played with Charleroi in the same league along with "Cubby" Jewell. He was also with Hanover in the Blue Ridge league for about 14 weeks, but returned home to be married. The new Slovak manager hasn't played much baseball since 1929, but last year took up pitching for the East Side Merchants and defeated West Middlesex. Helping Russell direct the Slovak club will be another old veteran of the diamond, Johnny "Snowy" Seinkner. The Slovaks are going to make a determined bid for the City League flag this summer. The team will use Clifton Flats field as a home field this year.

UMPIRES TO MEET FRIDAY EVENING

There will be a meeting of the City Baseball league umpires at the Tigers Club at 7 o'clock Friday night. President Don Castele would like to have the following attend—Paul Coates, Tex Richards, Emil Smolnik, Tony Priscaro, Adolph Valensi, Red Kellar, Casey Pruitt, Sam Bullano, Reney Orlando, Tip Richards, Austin Cowmeadow and Nickie Gennoek.

FRIENDSHIP TEAM TO MEET

The Friendship A. C. softball team runnersup for the midget softball title last year will have a meeting tonight at the club rooms at 7 o'clock. It was announced. Plans for the coming softball season will be talked over.

Legislators Shy At P.I.A.A. Probe

Inclined To Let Well Enough Alone In Recent Flareup Over PIAA Actions

COACHES UPHOLD EDMUND WICHT

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 6.—A legislative "hands-off" policy appeared in the office today as a house rules committee debated the advisability of an investigation of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association. From reliable sources it was learned that a proposal to place the independent PIAA under the department of public instruction supervision was finding little favor among legislators. Attitude of state officials was believed influenced by a rising tide of opposition from every corner of the state against the resolution of a Berwick representative, Eckley Hoyt, Republican, calling for a probe of the alleged "high-handed" tactics of Edmund Wicht, executive secretary of the association. Evans Speaks William C. Evans, president of the western branch of the association, termed Hoyt's proposal "just more political agitation from a disgruntled source." The Cumberland County Coaches' association, one of the largest groups of school athletic heads in central Pennsylvania, joined the chorus of opposition to Hoyt's resolution by unanimously endorsing Wicht's handling of the PIAA reins. Additional opposition came from Hazleton, state high school basketball champions last year and eastern Pennsylvania semi-finalists this season, as Al Wagner, faculty manager, declared that "we see nothing wrong with the PIAA set-up and favor its continuance."

March Is Wetter, And Warmer Month

Excess Of Temperature And Precipitation Occurs Last Month, Observer Notes

March weather was warmer and wetter than the average, the figures of U. S. Weather Observer B. P. Johnson reveal. The temperature averaged 24 degrees warmer per day, while the temperature was 1.92 inches over the normal amount, although there was only a half inch of snow during the month.

The mean maximum temperature was 49.6 degrees, the mean minimum, 29 degrees, and the mean or average, 39.3 degrees. The highest temperature was 77 degrees, registered on March 24 and 25, while the lowest was 10 degrees on the 19th. The greatest daily range was 34 degrees on the March 3rd.

The total precipitation for the month was 4.96 inches, the greatest in 24 hours being 1.75 inches on March 12. Snowfall during the month amounted to just a half inch. Days with 0.1 inches or more of precipitation were 14, days clear, 10; partly cloudy, 14; cloudy, 7. The normal precipitation for the month is 3.04 inches, an excess of 1.92 inches being shown. In March of 1938, there was an excess of 2.21 inches. The normal temperature for March is 36.9 degrees, an excess of 2.4 degrees being noted this year, compared with 5.7 degrees for March of 1938. Snowfall was the same for March of last year, with a half inch. The highest temperature in March last year was 84 degrees and the lowest was 10 degrees, the greatest daily range being 40 degrees.

RAMBLERS EXPECT

TO HAVE FAST TEAM

Ramblers expect to have a good baseball team this year. In 1938 they had a good season. The players secured by Manager James Heaney follow: Triplett, 1 f.; Gilboy, s. s.; Morrison, 1b.; Nicholson, 3b.; Flinner, c. f.; Dewberry, 2b.; Goodman, r. f.; Isaac, c. and Len, p.

EDENBURG

Mrs. Roy Raub has been confined to her home with grip.

Dorothy Bonnett is confined to her home with influenza.

Gene List has been ill at his home for the past week with beaded ears.

Mrs. Frank Phillips has been ill for the past week with a sore throat and cold.

Mrs. Sam Hyatt and son, Lee, of Washington, Pa., are visiting relatives for a few days.

Wilson Raub, Tom Shafer and Richard Biddle, visited friends at Hopedale, Ohio, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lease, of Baden, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Filby and daughter, Anna Mae, were Sunday visitors with relatives at Lone Pine, Pa.

Ben Filby has returned to Lone Pine after spending several months with his brother, Harry Filby and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wigton and son, Joe, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor and family, of West View, Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. William Curl, of Youngstown, Ohio, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammers and family, of Erie street.

Mrs. Mary Biddle, and son, have returned home from the Jameson hospital and are staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Filby, of Crawford avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Knuth and daughter, Margaret, of Youngstown, Ohio, were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Usselson, of Erie street. Margaret remained for a week's visit with Edna Jean Usselson.

PLAN STRONG TEAM

The Rose Bowl softball team will be one of the best junior teams in the city, it was indicated today as the roster of the team was made known by Manager "Twinkle" Campbell. The team will join the junior softball league this year. The following will have places on the team: Campbell, J. Ross, V. Ross, J. Witkowski, B. Brest, D. Curran, "Benny" Goodman, J. Lipp, P. Carey, B. Hogue and D. Hogue.

There are 32 types of pneumonia bacteria.

Stovich, has hopes of a Stovich victory.

The West Pittsburgh lightweight, Chuck Arnett, is the most seasoned boxer on the card. When he exerts his eye for distance and puts leverage into his blows he is a tough lad to beat.

He is scheduled to oppose Mickey McCoy of Youngstown, who will be making his first appearance here. Should Mickey upset Arnett, he recently outpointed Joey Simms, he will have accomplished something.

Billy Reale of Princeton is an enigma at present. He has been out of the ring owing to a hand injury. No doubt the lay-off may affect him but he has hopes of winning from Tom Pipher of Youngstown at 160.

There is no need of saying much about the Chuck Swatvik vs. Buck Chambers scrap. There's a lot of dynamite rivalry between them that extends to their trainers, Johnny Banks and Mickey Solomon, former professional maulers.

Johnny Kovach, of Youngstown, meets Larry Regan, Butler; Baby Retardo scraps with Mickey O'Day, Youngstown, and Hal Brooks, alias Dancin' Feet, angles with Harold Patterson in three other bouts on Monday.

NEW CASTLE CHECKER CLUB WINS MATCH

The New Castle Checker Club defeated the Butler Checker Club last night at the "Y" checker room, 16 to 8. New Castle also had 16 draws.

The New Castle team scoring points—Coulter, 2 wins, 2 draws; McCaslin, 2 wins, 2 draws; Miller, 1 win, 2 draws; Keen, 1 win, 2 draws; Stoner, 1 win, 1 draw; Hughes, 2 wins, 1 draw; Zona, 2 wins, 1 draw; Tanner, 4 wins; Kulich, 1 win, 3 draws; Hulme, 0 wins, 2 draws. Union Township Residents Meet

Further Plans For Number Of Improvements In Populated Areas Of District

Meeting in the auditorium of the Union Twp. high school Wednesday evening, residents of Union Twp. discussed and furthered plans for a number of improvements to be made for the betterment of the district.

R. E. Ferree and W. H. Mott gave a detailed report on behalf of the sanitary sewer committee. The report stated that the committee had met with C. H. Milholland, former city engineer, to get his opinion on the matter.

In order to get approval for the sewers in the township, it would be necessary for the township supervisors to submit plans to State Sanitary Engineer Young in Meadville for his approval. WPA funds provided by the state would be secured to construct the sewer.

J. W. Pattison, suggested that the organization consult the state sanitary laws and requirements, due to the fact that a great deal of new legislation has recently been passed along these lines.

Although members of the sidewalk committee were not present, the matter was discussed. Providing the residents furnish materials for a sidewalk, the project could be put through under the WPA.

Walter Kieler, temporary president of the Union Township Civic Association, suggested that all committees continue to serve in their present capacities. He also set the date of the next meeting for May 5.

NAVY MAN WHO ENLISTED HERE IS HONOR MAN

Word has been received at the New Castle recruiting station of the United States Navy that Steve Nickerepovich, apprentice seaman who enlisted at the local office in May, 1938, has been selected as honor man for Company 5 at the Newport, R. I., training station.

Nickerepovich is a resident of Sharpsville, where he has been spending the past 10 days on a leave of absence. Upon returning to his station Nickerepovich will either go to a trade school or be assigned to duty aboard a ship.

Stock Market Loses Ground

Fresh Wave Of Selling Sends Stocks Downward After Opening Weak Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 6.—A fresh wave of selling as a result of the Italian-Albanian crisis tumbled the stock market 1 to more than 4 points today into new low ground for the year.

Stocks, weak from the opening, suffered a bad break at the end of the first hour as heavy selling forced the ticker 2 minutes behind. All sections were hit by the widespread liquidation which slowed later. The general market showed no real rallying power.

Foreign markets were generally easier, but trading was restricted by the impending four-day Easter holiday for most European exchanges. Approach of the lengthy holiday induced traders here to lighten accounts.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE NO. 67

An ordinance providing for the levying and collection of taxes for borough, sinking fund and library purposes, in the Borough of Bessemer, in Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, for the year 1939, and making appropriations for the several purposes stated.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Borough Council of the Borough of Bessemer, and it hereby is ordained and enacted by the authority of the same:

That there be levied and collected for the year 1939 on all property, offices, professions and persons made taxable by the laws of this Commonwealth for county rates and levies, a tax for general borough purposes, sinking fund and library fund for the said Borough, in the sum of one and two-tenths of one cent on the dollar on the assessment made by the duly constituted assessor and adjusted and equalized by the proper authorities of the County of Lawrence, which amounts to $1,411.75 for the year 1939.

Section 2. There hereby is appropriated out of the funds derived from said levy the following amounts:

For sinking fund purposes the sum of $4,260.00

For free public library purposes the sum of $900.00

Section 3. The commissions of the tax collector hereby are fixed at two per cent on all taxes paid to him on which an abatement is made as provided by law, and at five per cent on all taxes collected by him after the period for said abatement has expired.

Section 4. The tax collector is authorized to make collection of any delinquent occupation tax from the employer of the taxable after ten days notice or demand made upon the taxable as provided by Section 7 of the Act approved May 21, 1937, P. L. 761, and to collect real estate taxes from the tenant, occupying the property, if any, as provided by Section 8, in said Act of May 21, 1937.

Section 5. The notices of taxes provided for in Section 1207 of the General Borough Act shall state that all persons who, within sixty days from the date thereof, shall make payment of said taxes, shall be entitled to a reduction of five per cent of the amount thereof that shall be paid, and that all persons that fail to pay same within said sixty days shall be charged an additional one-half of one per cent for each month, or fractional part thereof, after said sixty days have elapsed.

Section 6. The tax collector hereby is authorized to send out said notices to the taxpayers under date of the 15th day of July, 1939.

Section 7. The Borough Secretary hereby is directed to prepare a tax book showing the valuation and the above stated taxes at the above rates for each taxable, and also to prepare a duplicate thereof to which duplicate the Burgess shall add his warrant and deliver said duplicate and warrant to the tax collector for collection.

Ordained and enacted in Council this 3rd day of April, 1939.

CHAS. B. NORD, Borough Secretary.

Examined and approved by me this 3rd day of April, A. D. 1939.

Teaching Group Opposes Changes In Tenure Act

More Than 2,500 Teachers In State Express Opposition At Proposed Changes

MARRIAGE CLAUSE CAUSES MOST TROUBLE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 6—Pennsylvania school teachers, clashing bristly with business and school administration spokesmen, stiffened opposition today to proposed changes in the teachers' tenure act.
Approximately 2,500 teachers heaped condemnation on the Edmonds bill proposing drastic revision of the tenure act and pledged a "fight to the finish" in an effort to prevent passage of the amendments at a public hearing last night.

Lines Tightened
At the same time, a similar tightening of battle lines by proponents of the Edmonds measure was apparent.

Principal opposition of the teachers—descending on the capitol from every county in the commonwealth—appeared to arise against the provision in the Edmonds bill which would permit school boards to discontinue contracts of married teachers (and particularly married women teachers) by classifying marriage as "other activity" and as an "extra occupation."

From proponents of the bill came arguments that the Edmonds amendments would bring more economy and make for greater efficiency in school administration by organizing the educational system "along recognized business principles."

Mrs. Serena F. Davis, principal of the Northwest school in Philadelphia, told the joint legislative education committee that the "extra occupation" clause would force out married teachers.

"If you mean there should be no discrimination against married teachers, say so," Mrs. Davis asserted. "If you insist upon keeping discrimination in your program, make it clear."

AN APPRECIATION

April 4, 1939.

Mr. Jacob F. Rentz,

Manager News Company,

New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Rentz:

I wish to express to The News Company our thanks and appreciation for the splendid publicity which was given to the Y. M. C. A. in our recent Membership Drive.

Such co-operation on the part of the local newspaper is of the greatest importance in such a campaign as ours.

Yours very truly,

General Secretary.

ANENT CANAL PROJECT

New Castle Jct., Pa.

April 4, 1939.

Editor of The News,

New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I have sat on the sidelines with a mixture of amusement and resentment at the activities of sundry organizations in their flag waving demonstrations of "Get a Canal through New Castle and become Prosperous."

I deeply appreciate why a certain few would like to have this Canal project carried through to completion, but for the life of me, I cannot understand why the majority of people cannot see beyond their next pay check and get all excited about something that eventually will not prove only a detriment to fast transportation, but a white elephant on the hands of posterity.

I wonder if the general public is correctly informed, as to the hardships that will be worked on the tax paying public, as an example—the Missouri River that the government has dumped millions into in an effort to get a navigable stream and the only thing that the taxpayers have realized is the occasional toot of a barge whistle, during the harvesting of the great wheat crop of 1937, the officials of government subsidized barge line proudly told the world they had loaded 100,000 bushels of wheat in one week, a lot of wheat, but it compares with three million bushels of wheat received in Kansas, in one day, at the rate of 100,000 bushels per day these subsidized barges would require around seven months to move one day's receipts alone and three years would elapse before they could move record receipts of 14 million bushels in the week ending July 10, 1937, and we are to pay and pay plenty for this microscopic service that benefits only a few. And we are expected to string along with an idea that is commercially and economically unsound and would add to our tax burdens without one iota of promise that it would ever be of any benefit whatever to the city of New Castle, and why should we be called upon to pay a great percentage of the original cost in addition to the annual maintenance charge. Records conclusively demonstrate that transportation by tugs and barges on artificial canalized waterways in the United States, costing hundreds of millions to construct and several million annually to maintain is lacking in everything that constitutes economical and efficient operation. It is a simple affront to the intelligence to attempt to represent it in any other light. How much longer is our government and the Canalites going to continue this imposture, and how much longer is the rail industry going to have to compete with subsidized waterways? When bridges are built over or under railroads the railroad company pays their full percentage of the cost, in addition to maintaining their right-of-way, build a bridge over a canal and what happens, you have built the canal, you maintain the canal and you will build the bridge. If a company is formed and desires to build a canal with the same legislation applicable that applies to the rails then let them build it, let them build and maintain the canal and pay their bills out of their revenues, and not tax the general public, how would any merchant on Washington street feel if the government selected a store room and put me in business, rent free and tax free, selling my commodity at any price I care to charge and using any methods I care to use, how would they like it, and how long would they stay in business and how many employees would be
